Florida Has Eye Peeled For 'Ethel'

Taking Same Path As 'Dora'; Damages Counted In Millions

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Florida, staggered by the one-two punch of hurricanes Cleo and Dora, looked with apprehension today at hurricane Ethel, spinning slowly in from the Atlantic.

Although it was too early to tell where Ethel would go, her center was whipping along the same path taken by Dora.

Dora, meanwhile, sloshed through the Florida panhandle while a top-level inspection team planned to survey the vast sweep of destruction she inflicted on Jacksonville and St. Augustine, Fla., and Brunswick, Ga.

The team was sent by President Johnson who declared all sections of Georgia and Florida battered by Dora a major disaster area.

Preliminary estimates put damage in the tens of millions of dollars.

Dora lost her strength during a rainy trek across northern Florida and was downgraded to a tropical storm with peak winds estimated at 60 miles per hour. Dora was expected to continue moving west, with perhaps a slight turn to the north, and gradually wear herself out.

Gales lashed the state capital of Tallahassee and other parts of thinly populated northern Florida for hours during the night, but little damage was reported other than minor flooding.

Highest winds recorded inland were less than 50 m.p.h.

Ethel, a small storm with a 300-mile spread of gales and peak winds of 95 m.p.h., churned westward from a spot about 800 miles east of Palm Beach.

"It's a good three days away, even if it should maintain its present course," said chief forecaster Gordon Dunn. "We're not making any predictions at this point."

Although power was still largely out, Jacksonville, St. Augustine and Brunswick pitched into a monumental repair and cleanup job.

More than 30,000 persons who spent two nights on the hard floors of churches, schools and armories in Georgia, Florida and South Carolina returned to their homes.

Some had no homes left. Fourteen houses north of St. Augustine were demolished.

CIC Leader Asks 'Yes' On School Issue

Alvin Babb, president of the Community Improvement Corp., today urged East Liverpool School District residents to vote for the proposed bond issue which would provide a new high school and three elementary schools for the district.

Head of the CIC which is working on industrial development of the area, Babb said modern schools and vocational training of students for skilled labor are among the prime requisites for attracting new industry.

He emphasized the competition across the United States among communities seeking industry and said city after city is constructing schools to meet the modern needs of their pupils.

"Continued progress in educating children of the community is a sound indication of the outlook, energy and spirit of a city, one which spells out for a potential investor or industrialist the advantage of founding a business or firm in a community," he said.

"East Liverpool has a clear need for a new high school and modern elementary building to replace the outmoded and inadequate structures now providing only a limited education for our young people."

"We should provide proper schools for our children, and we should act now in order to obtain the state aid and to save tax money, taxes wasted on repairs and inefficient buildings and taxes wasted if we wait until later when costs of construction will have risen."

Taylor Sure Of Victory

U.S. Sees Chance To End Viet War By Negotiation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top U.S. officials say they believe it may become possible to negotiate an end to the war in South Viet Nam, but only after Red China and North Viet Nam are convinced they are backing a losing aggression.

Whether the anti-Communist fighting will have to be expanded beyond the borders of South Viet Nam before that result is achieved is one of the questions left open following the consultations here this week of Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor with President Johnson and other U.S. policy makers.

Taylor, who left Washington Thursday night to return to Saigon, said he is sure the South Vietnamese struggle "will end victoriously from our point of view."

But he declined to speculate on when it would end and he said this is not the time to talk about negotiations.

When asked if there had been any discussion in the conferences this week about an armistice with the Reds, Taylor replied "absolutely not."

The sessions confirmed two immediate major objectives in South Vietnamese policy.

The most important of these purposes, according to reports coming out of the sessions at the White House and State Department, is the formation of a stable South Vietnamese government in Saigon as quickly as possible.

Taylor is understood to have reported to President Johnson and others here that U.S.-backed Premier Nguyen Khanh has come to be regarded even by his political foes in Saigon as an almost indispensable man at the moment.

Taylor feels he is the one man who has broad support among major elements of the Vietnamese population, including politically powerful Buddhists, the Catholics and the military.

The other objective on which a start is expected in the immediate future is a clean-up of Communist guerrilla forces in the four provinces immediately around Saigon.

Officials said Taylor had received assurances from Premier Khanh that he intended to go forward with the operation without delay, even during the government reorganization.

In discussing the larger and long-range aspects of the South Vietnamese conflict, officials said, Taylor expressed the view that it would not be won by military means alone.

Johnson Brands GOP 'Reckless'

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — President Johnson, identifying the Republican cause with "a doctrine that invites extremism," says voters this year will reject "the echoes of the past."

Using the strongest language he has yet applied to his political opponents, Johnson associated them with "reckless factions" which he described as contemptuous, callous, arrogant, belligerent and careless.

The President set a Harrisburg audience of 5,000 cheering and chanting Thursday night, accusing his opposition of demanding that voters "choose a doctrine that is alien to America — that would lead to a tragic convulsion in our foreign relations."

And, depicting 1964 as a time of decision, he said citizens will be voting on "the peace of the world."

At another point, Johnson stopped the show and started the music — "Hello Lyndon" was the tune — by shouting this battlecry that produced a mirthful doubletake from his audience at a Democratic fundraising dinner:

"We are a nation of lovers and not a nation of haters."

Joining in the ensuing laughter, Johnson waited out a spontaneous musical salute from the organist and the biggest burst of cheering from a crowd that interrupted him more than 40 times.

Never during the evening did Johnson mention his GOP rival, Sen. Barry Goldwater. But by talking about extremism — a hot topic at July's Republican National Convention — and by repeatedly saying that his opponents demanded a choice of the voters, Johnson sought to make his target evident.

Goldwater has said many times that his candidacy offers the electorate a choice, not an echo.

Johnson, at the end of his speech, adopted the word "echo" for dramatic effect.

He contended that the voice of the majority long ago said "yes" to Social Security, the minimum wage, equal opportunity, medical care for the aged, the anti-poverty program and other Democratic-sponsored measures.

"But the echo still says 'no!'" he shouted as he ran through the litany.

Each time Johnson used his "echo" line, he slammed down his clenched fist like a cheerleader and the audience chanted the phrase with him in unison.

"This year," said Johnson, "the mighty voice of the American majority will be heard throughout our land, and it will be heard also around the world. It will be heard saying 'yes' to the future, and saying 'no' to the echoes of the past."

He applied this vigorous language to his opponents:

"There are abroad in this responsible land reckless factions contemptuous toward the will of majorities, callous toward the plight of minorities, arrogant toward allies, belligerent toward adversaries, careless toward peace."

He said such factions wear many names, espouse many causes and demand of the voters a choice.

Daniel McKeel, 40, New Instructor At Westgate, Is Victim

A fatal heart attack suffered by a 40-year-old Andover man, who began his teaching duties here Wednesday at Westgate School, was blamed for an accident Thursday night at 5th and Market Sts. in which a woman motorist was injured and extensive damage was caused to a jewelry showroom and four autos.

Daniel W. McKeel, who was residing on Park Blvd., was pronounced dead on arrival at City Hospital following the mishap at 9:50 p. m. in the heart of the business district.

Sophia March, 48, of 234 W. 3rd St. was released after treatment for a whiplash injury of the neck, lacerations from shattered glass, bruises of the forearm and knee abrasions.

Extensive damage was caused to the E. 5th St. side of Shaw's

Man Reports Quartet Took Wallet, $165

A W. 7th St. man told police he was robbed of his wallet containing $165 by three men and a woman accomplice early today on Mulberry St.

Andrew Boggs, 142 W. 7th St., told officers two of the men held him and the third slugged him in the head after he had been driven to Mulberry St. from a Dresden Ave. tavern by the woman.

Boggs said the woman approached him in the Green Mill Restaurant on Dresden Ave. about closing time early this morning and suggested she knew where he could obtain more to drink.

He said he accompanied her in the car to the East End where she stopped and the three men approached. He told Patrolman Paul A. Burson Jr. that one of the men removed his billfold containing the money.

Boggs said he broke away from the men and ran down a small creek at Mulberry and

The McKeel auto backed into one auto, knocked down a mail box at the intersection of E. 5th and Market Sts., and struck another car, injuring a woman motorist, before plunging into the store. One of the cars struck was knocked into another, involving four in all in the mishap in the heart of the business district.

Meeting Set On Strike Of HL Kilnmen

Union Officers And Firm's Head Will Confer On Walkout

A work stoppage by 35 to 40 kilnhands that has idled an estimated 1,000 employees continued today at the Homer Laughlin China Co. in Newell, but a conference will be held this afternoon concerning the dispute.

The kilnmen's work stoppage at Plant 7 was described as "illegal" Thursday by the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters, and the men were instructed to return to work today before grievance procedure could be launched.

A Homer Laughlin spokesman said several kilnhands reported for work this morning but "there were not enough to use them."

The stoppage has idled about 1,000 employees. Still on the job are employees in the packing, decorating and maintenance departments and some laborers.

Charles F. Jordan, secretary-treasurer of the IBOP, said union officials and the management of the big chinaware firm were to meet this afternoon at 1:30 concerning the dispute.

Precinct Judges Due To Pick Up Supplies

The County Election Board today reminded presiding judges in the 43 precincts in the East Liverpool school district to pick up supplies between 9 a. m. and noon Saturday at its W. 6th St. office for Tuesday's special election on the school bond issue.

Meanwhile, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said 44 civilian absentee and disabled voters' ballots and nine to military personnel were issued prior to the deadline Thursday afternoon.

All but one civilian and two of the "soldier" ballots have been returned. Civilian ballots had to be returned by noon today to be counted at the polls while the "soldier ballots" will be accepted until noon Tuesday, he said.

Goldwater Raps Supreme Court

CHICAGO (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater said today that the Supreme Court, by not using judicial restraint, threatens our present system of government.

In a speech prepared for delivery to the American Political Science Assn., the Republican presidential candidate said: "I weigh my words carefully when I say that — of all three branches of government — today's Supreme Court is the least faithful to the constitutional tradition of a limited government, and to the principle of legitimacy in the exercise of power."

Twice Thursday Goldwater criticized the court's decision on reapportionment of state legislatures. Today he was again critical of that decision, as well of its verdict in the school prayer case.

He cited these to illustrate his contention the court is moving into areas he doesn't think it should be in.

"I do not doubt for one minute that law must keep up with the changing times," Goldwater said. "But the job of keeping the law up to date should be in the hands of the legislatures, the Congress, and the common law courts, not just in the hands of the nine appointed justices of the Supreme Court."

Goldwater said today's court operates differently from those in the past.

"Until recent years," he said, "the Supreme Court itself has exercised judicial restraint with respect to acts of Congress with which it disagreed but which were founded on legitimate exercise of legislative power."

"But not the Supreme Court of today!"

This is the last day of Goldwater's first week of official campaigning. He has a speech at Rockford, Ill., late today, and then it's back to Washington for the weekend before taking his drive for the presidency into the South next week.

Goldwater began his speech to the political scientists by hitting on a familiar theme — the growth of presidential power, which he says can upset the system of checks and balances between the executive, legislative and judiciary branches of government. Repeatedly he has Midland Council Thursday night accepted the resignation of Anthony Verzelli, veteran patrolman, and named William Monac to serve on the police force on a fulltime basis.

Monac was appointed to the department Feb. 16 on a six-month trial basis. Verzelli, a 19-year veteran of the force, has accepted employment with the Crucible Steel Co. Monac will receive an increase in salary retroactive to the end of his probationary status.

In other action, councilmen granted a request of Earl Rankin, executive secretary of the Midland Area Chamber of Commerce for the use of 20 parking spaces in the 500-800 blocks of Midland Ave. for a Car-A-Rama on Sept. 28-30.

Local auto dealers will display various models of 1965 cars.

A resident of the Sunrise Hills section of Industry Borough asked if anything was being done about the proposed annexation of the area by Midland.

Firemen Air Plans To End Madison Aid

Glenmoor volunteer firemen discussed at length their proposal of withdrawing coverage of nearby Madison Township at a special meeting Thursday night with three West Point firemen, and several Madison residents.

No decision was reached on the decision of discontinuing fire runs into Madison Township. This had been proposed because firemen said they have not been paid for numerous fire calls at Madison Township homes.

Glenmoor firemen emphasized in the discussion they do not have a dispute with West Point fire department, which is paid to serve Madison Township. Rather, firemen said, their dispute is with insurance companies who have policies on homes in Madison.

A meeting of the executive boards of Glenmoor and West Point departments was called for Tuesday night at 7:30 at West Point for further discussion of the question.

Glenmoor firemen also made plans to sponsor a junior football team, to be known as the Glenmoor Rams. Martin Christen, assistant chief, will be coach.

The woman's auxiliary has purchased four pairs of boots for firemen, and will continue to make additional purchases as funds become available.

PTA At Garfield Adds Its Support To School Issue

The school bond issue which will be voted on Tuesday was endorsed by the Garfield Parent-Teacher Association during a meeting Thursday night at the school.

The group also contributed $25 to the Citizens Committee for Better Schools which is promoting the issue for a new high school and three new elementary schools — one for the East End.

George Hargraves, assistant superintendent, discussed the need for replacing the present high school and outmoded elementary structures, such as Garfield. A question-and-answer session followed.

Mrs. Mildred Miller was appointed chairman of a telephone committee to urge voters to back the bond issue.

Cecil Sayre, president, was in charge.

Public Card Party Set By Group At Industry

Plans for a public card party Oct. 8 were completed at a meeting of the Industry volunteer fire department auxiliary Wednesday night in the fire hall.

Mrs. Charles Karolewski, president, conducted business and announced that Mrs. Michael Rosepler will be chairman for the event, assisted by Mrs. Sally Williams and Mrs. Ben Montgomery.

Mrs. Karolewski and Mrs. Rosepler were hostesses.

The next meeting will be Oct. 13 in the fire hall.

FOOTBALL WAS GIVEN its annual kickoff here Thursday night when members of the 1964 Potter squad, cheerleaders, the high school band and other units paraded through the downtown area. In the lead car, above, were co-captains Bob Maltarich (left) and Mike Snowden, surrounded by a group of cheerleaders. Left to right are Terry Sprague, Bonnie Walker, Patty Stull, Barbara Tomlinson, Cynthia Morgan and Brenda Riebel.

SUMMITVILLE — A resolution to urge state highway officials to retain Route 62 in Columbiana County was approved by the Women's Civic Club at a meeting Thursday night with Mrs. F. H. Johnson.

Letters will be sent to Gov. James Rhodes and to P. E. Ma-sheter, director of highways, concerning the highway route.

Mrs. Fred A. Rogers, president, conducted the meeting. R. Max Gard of Hanoverton R.D. displayed his rock collection and spoke about the various stones.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Ernest Phillips and Mrs. Rogers. The next meeting will be Oct. 8 with Mrs. Marjorie Roberts.

County 4-H Boy Wins Trip To Club Congress

LISBON — Presentation of his 4-H demonstration at the Ohio State Fair proved profitable for David Wilhelm of Salem R.D. 2. The payoff for his hard work is the trip he won to the Ohio 4-H Club Congress in Columbus Saturday through Wednesday.

He was one of six individuals and six teams in the state who won with demonstrations or illustrated talks in the area of "Science and Skills Outside the Home." His demonstration was on "Care of Paint Brushes."

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilhelm, he is a member of the Beaver Creek 4-H Club, according to Miss Ann Overturf, county extension agent in home economics.

75 At Orchardmen's Annual Fall Meeting

LISBON — Seventy-five attended the annual fall meeting of the Columbiana - Mahoning County Orchardmen at the Salem Fruit Growers Association building at Greenford Thursday night.

James Lund of Loblaw's discussed what the buyer looks for in produce.

Pat Casey of the Farm Bureau Federation reported on the market outlook and said that in general the apple crop is large this year in all areas, and growers should get a fair price.

Awards were presented to Columbiana and Mahoning Apple Queen contestants and refreshments were served.

Next meeting is in January, a time and place to be announced.

Mrs. Pat Maylone, party chairman, said proceeds will be used for books for a library.

The committee includes Mrs. Elsie Connelly, tickets; Mrs. Pat Morris, prizes; Mrs. Mary Alice Pugh, publicity; Mrs. Helen MacLain and Mrs. Peg Ewing, lunch, and Mrs. Donna Verzella, candy sale.

The PTA will meet Oct. 5.

President May Get Whale Of Memento

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — When President Johnson comes to Vancouver next Wednesday he may receive a whale of a memento.

Alderman Aeneas Bell-Irving said Thursday he hoped the President would pay a visit to Moby Doll, the city's 2½-ton killer whale. But if he can't, Bell-Irving thinks the City Council should present the President with a silver miniature.

Moby Doll was captured not far from here earlier in the summer and appears to be thriving in her new home — a sea pen at an old wharf.

Somebody Must Be Kidding

Years after the U.S. Supreme Court ordered integration of tax-supported schools, Southern irreconcilables are still thumbing their noses. Yet the U.S. Senate is tied up in a "baby filibuster" over the possibility of a few months' delay in carrying out the court's ruling that both houses of bicameral legislatures should be substantially equal in population.

Somebody must be kidding. Somebody must be trying to do to the Supreme Court's reapportionment ruling what was done previously to its ruling barring official religious exercises in public schools — trying to reduce it to such abject absurdity that the court's critics could have another field day.

THE TRUTH IS — always has been — that the Supreme Court's religious rulings made abundantly clear the majority's attitude that no interference with individual prayer or religious belief was intended. The court merely affirmed what the Constitution declares — that laws concerning establishments of religion shall not be tolerated in this Republic.

In its reapportionment ruling, the Supreme Court again has affirmed what Americans always thought was true — that they were living in a representative democracy in which one man's vote meant as much as any other man's vote. It did not say and did not imply that the structure of government had to be made over instantly.

The Problem Is For Policemen

Both presidential candidates are concerned about street rioting, as are Americans everywhere.

President Johnson, under criticism by Sen. Goldwater, has ordered the Federal Bureau of Investigation to compile reports on the riots to see if there is a common pattern detectable in them.

Sen. Goldwater and his backers have been implying the Johnson administration is responsible for the riots because some have occurred in connection with and sometimes in the guise of civil rights demonstrations. This can be written off as part of the give-and-take of political campaigning, in view of the fact the Republican party in Congress and throughout the states is just as much committed to civil rights as the Democratic party — more so, in fact.

But the riots are a fact. They must be coped with by realists, not theorists. They are deeply disturbing, not because of any connection with civil rights demonstrations but because they have occurred at all. Insofar as the participants were predominantly Negro, they are a damaging reflection on Negroes as a race — fully as damaging as the cruel and murderous antics of the undisciplined poor whites of the Deep South, as to the white race. But in neither case can the majority be held responsible for the minority's bad behavior. The incontrovertible fact is

Nature Can Destroy Too

Let no one say he is thankful for hurricanes that can blow down and destroy what men patiently have built with arduous toil.

Let no one reason in this advanced era of civilized thinking and living that the cruel punishment of these great storms can be called good for the soul of man — that they toughen it.

What can be said, though, is that the hurricanes which beset our Atlantic Coast, like the tornadoes that plague the interior, are a reminder to mankind in an era when Science boasts it has the power to destroy the earth.

Nature has the power to destroy the earth, too. But it doesn't.

On the infrequent occasions when it vents its forces of destruction, they humble and make insignificant the most grandiose efforts of men.

No Thanks

I am glad I don't have to be a modern kid. There's too much to worry about.

When people my age were kids, we led a carefree existence.

Some of us were poor but we didn't make a big thing of it. There were always poorer people than we were.

Thinking back over it, we must not have smelled good, especially in winter when they installed the long johns and the heavy shoes. But who smelled any better?

No one gave us vitamins to buoy up our health, and there were no antibiotics to rescue us from infections. We survived or we didn't.

There was no horror comparable to the modern skin-prickler of being burnt to a cinder instantaneously by a nuclear explosion in a war over something we didn't understand.

ACADEMIC PRESSURE when we went to school was nothing more rigorous than a wooden paddle applied smartly to the gluteus maximus, designed by Providence to cushion the blow. No one wanted to be a greasy grind.

No one stood over us to keep us toed to the mark so when the gun went off we could get off to a head start in the race for scholarships and a chance to stand proud and tall someday in a white collar.

Another Look At Nuclear Weapon Issue

By DAVID LAWRENCE
President Johnson says that "there is no such thing as a conventional nuclear weapon" but it is unfortunately true that, if a conventional war is started in Europe, it cannot be won by the West without the use of some of the smaller nuclear weapons. The real issue in the debate is being avoided by the use of campaign hyperboles. It's supposed to be good politics to tell the American people that any man, when elected president, might have a nervous finger on the nuclear trigger. This assumes that military operations are going to be directed hereafter by a president in the White House and not by a supreme military commander of experience who faces the enemy directly on the battlefield. The discussion concerning the kind of weapons to use in a conventional war — that is, a possible invasion across the continent of Europe — has been going on for the last three years. It has led to a momentous decision by President de Gaulle of France that he can no longer depend upon the United States to protect his country against attack and that he must have a nuclear arsenal of his own. THE FRENCH fully understand the reluctance of the United States to put its nuclear weapons at the disposal of other governments. At the same time, France is willing to have the American military commander of NATO forces in Europe given such control. Military men generally point out that, in the event of a land attack in Europe, it might take too much time to get proper instructions from the White House, and that a Soviet invasion would by then have reached such proportions that only a massive nuclear response would be able to prevent defeat. Once such a massive retaliation does occur, of course, a nuclear war of mammoth proportions will have been started. It's precisely to avoid such a nuclear holocaust that the military men have advocated the use of small tactical nuclear weapons, some of which have not much more firepower than conventional weapons of the past but a longer range. These could be used to frustrate the offensive operations of a land army.

WHAT MILITARY men fear

most is that they may not be able to get a decision from the president of the United States promptly enough to rearrange their troops, and also that the front-line situation may be mistakenly assessed by the president and his advisers, far removed from the battle area.

One of the tactical nuclear weapons is similar in appearance to a large recoilless rifle. It carries a very low-yield nuclear warhead, designed to knock out a bridge, for instance, but not a city. This is known as the "Davy Crockett."

There are other nuclear weapons — among them two rockets known as the "Honest John" and the "Little John" — which are essentially artillery pieces for the aid of ground armies and are tailored to special battlefield conditions.

This is one reason why Sen. Goldwater says these could really be called "conventional" weapons, as they take the place of artillery. They are confined to ground operations and not to long-range strategic attack such as is envisaged for the big nuclear bombs.

One of the most interesting phases of the problem was recently emphasized by General of the Army Ailleret, chief of staff of the Armed Forces of France, in a lecture delivered before the annual assembly of the NATO College in Europe. He said:

"If aggression occurred without any warning — that is, without very important measures of concentration on the part of the enemy — the ratio of forces would be about three to two in favor of the Soviets in big land units, and the imbalance would be even greater in the realm of supporting and pursuit planes."

"Moreover, the effect of surprise would come into full play because the Soviet attack force would find itself faced with a defense force only in process of being put in place."

GENERAL AILLERET declared that the expedient moment to use tactical nuclear weapons must be found as soon as possible after the enemy forces cross the Iron Curtain. He added:

"If it comes only after the Soviets have invaded half of Europe, the destruction from this will be added to the invasion, which would only mean for her double disasters, of different kinds but each one immense."

Sen. Goldwater's suggestion that the NATO supreme commander be authorized to use certain kinds of tactical nuclear weapons of the smaller range of firepower in case of attack in Europe is in line with the thinking of many American as well as European military men of high rank.

Some day, when the campaign is over, it seems likely that, no matter who is elected president, some arrangement will have to be made which will give discretionary authority to the supreme commander of NATO forces in Europe — an American — so that he can take prompt action whenever the enemy starts an invasion.

The mere fact that such instructions would be known to have been given in advance could prove to be a deterrent of far-reaching significance.

Kickoff Time

It's football time again locally and East Liverpool fans are ready to whoop it up as the Potters race onto Patterson Field Saturday night for the start of another season.

Things began jumpin' Thursday night with a parade through the business section—and they'll be jumpin' again tomorrow night when Beaver Local comes to town for the continuation of a still new but friendly and exciting rivalry.

The Blue and White will have a "new look" this year under Coach Bob McNea, at the helm here for the first time. Such a "look" invariably creates a certain feeling of confidence—along with suspense—and brings out the "win-em-all" cry among coaches, players and fans alike.

Only time—and the scoreboard—will tell whether the Potters "win 'em all." But, regardless, an interesting season appears to be at hand. We wish the boys and their coaches well.

Goldwater Bluntly Challenges Labor

By VICTOR RIESEL
Barry Goldwater and his most intimate adviser, Denison Kitchel, are old hands at labor relations — which is why their use of union cars, telephones, headquarters, publicity departments, printing machinery or any other equipment.

On the industrial front, the senator is not opposed to strikes even if they inconvenience the public. However, he wants a law which would give 30 per cent of the union membership the right to demand a secret ballot vote on whether the union should strike or not.

UNDER SUCH a law the union would be required to give 30 days notice of its intention to throw up picket lines. Then, if enough rank-and-filers wanted the vote, they could get it.

If a majority of the members voted against a walkout, the union couldn't give notice of a strike for another 90 days. If anyone struck in defiance of the vote, he or she would be fired.

The senator talks of the union shop as "compulsory unionism." There are hundreds of thousands of labor contracts which make it mandatory for all workers in a plant to join the union after they are hired. At the moment there are 20 states which make such contracts illegal. The senator would make mandatory unionism automatically illegal in the other states unless each passed a law saying it was legal.

This, in effect, is the "right-to-work" controversy.

AS FOR UNION membership, the senator believes that a union should not have the right to exclude any qualified worker except Communists and others who advocate the violent overthrow of the government.

If any union excludes any worker for any reason except Communism, according to the Republican nominee, it should be denied the right to exclusive bargaining contracts or the agency shop pact. Under the agency shop the union covering a plant collects a fee from those workers who refuse to join the union.

Sen. Goldwater believes that

GRIN AND BEAR IT

By George Lichty

"It's inevitable, professor! . . . By 1975 we'll have more students than people!"

WHEN THIS protection falters for any reason, the public is in danger.

It is in danger right now in every community that cannot say with complete assurance it is capable of putting down any street riot that might break out, in the remote event that would-be rioters were permitted to get that far with their anti-social behavior.

The problem is for policemen, not politicians.

On The Move

With the naming of an executive secretary, the newly-organized Lisbon Chamber of Commerce is ready to swing into action.

Floyd Lower, who has consented to serve in the post on a temporary basis, undoubtedly will get things off on the right foot. He has a record of getting things done.

The new Chamber should prove a valuable asset to residents of the county seat.

The energy in a hurricane dwarfs the energy of one of Science's atomic disintegrators. The force of the great waves generated by hurricane-force winds will not be matched by anything men can produce.

The damage done by hurricanes when they happen to hit populated places can be compared with no other damage ever inflicted on man and his cities. And the damage they do to nature exceeds even the most sadistic imaginings of the maddest scientists.

Not a bad thing at all to be reminded of this occasionally.

If nature's forces ever were released against man as savagely as man wields his puny weapons against nature and other men, that would be the end of everything.

By Truman Twill

Oldsters didn't sit around and chew their fingers over the problem of juvenile delinquency. There were good kids who were going to turn out all right in the long run, and there were bad kids who were born for the hangman. There was no problem—just a fact.

The hangman was welcome to his victims and decent society accepted the others as its proper allotment. Everybody kept an eye peeled for the baddies and kept them under a tight rein — and everybody was thankful for the good ones, who were given a loose rein and encouraged to go as far as their God-given gifts could take them.

AS FOR FOREIGN policy, all we knew or wanted to know was that the missionary box had to be kept full so we could put Mother Hubbards on naked heathen women and pants on their boy friends, thereby saving them for Christian purposes.

No one ever had heard of psychiatry, dental decay was something some people were lucky enough not to be afflicted with and it hadn't crossed anyone's mind that boys wouldn't be boys and girls wouldn't be girls, because what else was there?

It was a carefree existence. Compared with what a kid faces today, it was heaven on earth — and I wouldn't want to relive my childhood in modern times under any circumstances.

Deaths and Funerals

Former City Resident Dies

Mrs. Ann Rigby Barnhart, 77, of Homeworth, a former resident of East Liverpool, and widow of Martin V. Barnhart, died Thursday at 2 p.m. at the Maple View Nursing Home in Louisville, following a long illness.

She was born here March 29, 1887, to the late James H. Rigby and Julia Gardner Rigby, and moved from the Calcutta area to Homeworth two years ago. She was a member of the First Church of the Nazarene here. Her husband died March 15, 1949.

She is survived by a son, Lawrence M. Barnhart of Homeworth; two daughters, Miss Julia Joe Barnhart of Guatemala and Mrs. Norman Lamping of Calcutta; a brother, Perry L. Rigby of Chester and three grandchildren.

Services will be held Monday at 2 p.m. at the Dawson Funeral Home by the Rev. C. G. Schlosser. Burial will be in Riverview Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday.

of Local 476 of the United Brick & Clayworkers Union continues at Crescent Brick Co., with no date announced for resumption of talks on a new contract.

Meanwhile, Local 476 members have voted that henceforth all trucks that load brick at the factory must be manned by unionized personnel, according to Donald Tabor, president.

The contract between the company and Local 476 expired Sept. 1 and negotiations up to the deadline failed to produce agreement on a new pact or extension of the old one.

Alfalfa Cutting Reminder Given

LISBON — Area producers were warned not to make the last cutting of alfalfa too late if they want the crop to survive the winter and be vigorous next spring. Agronomists at Ohio State University indicate research has shown the last cutting should be made no later than today in Northern and Eastern Ohio, according to Don Myers, county extension agent in agriculture.

An extra late harvest may be taken the last week of October or the first week of November, although this may weaken the crop and reduce next year's yield. To protect alfalfa after an extra - late harvest, a mulch of two tons of straw or four tons of strawy manure to the acre is suggested. This will reduce the influence of freezing and thawing next spring and the consequent heaving of plants.

The critical fall period when alfalfa should not be cut or grazed is from mid - September to late October.

Kiwanians Hear Potters' Mentor

A discussion of high school football and the East Liverpool Potters 1964 squad was given by Robert McNea, varsity coach, at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.

About 36 attended the session at which Alex Kidd, vice president, was in charge.

McNea spoke of the need for desire on the part of a good griddier. He also referred to the poor practice facilities in the East Liverpool system, and said he will vote for the proposed $3.3 million bond issue for a new high school if for no other reason than to get better practice facilities.

Coaching aides were guests. Jim Walker introduced McNea.

Driver Fined, Given Term

A Darlington area man, fined and jailed on two traffic charges, was among seven area motorists penalized by County Judge Herbert Arfman at East Palestine Thursday.

Leroy Kelly of Darlington R. D. 1 was fined $25 and costs for lack of a driver's license and sentenced to seven days in jail, and was fined $100 costs and given a one-month jail term for driving while intoxicated.

He was involved in an accident near New Springfield.

Darrell Hopple of R.D. 3 was fined $15 and costs for failure to file for registration.

Donald Wayne Purinton of 7th Ave., LaCroft, was fined $15 for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Betty Irene Sweesy, 1252 Sunnyside Ave., was fined $10 and costs for defective brakes. The fine was suspended.

Roy Justice of M.C. Route 22 and Lois Jean Lynn of R.D. 1, Bell School Rd., were fined $15 and costs for speeding.

Harold Wayne Barnes of Lisbon R.D. 2 was fined $15 and costs for lack of a truck tax decal.

Democrats Plan 'Hulet Smith Day' In Hancock

The Hancock County Democratic Executive Committee has completed plans for "Hulet Smith Day" in Hancock County Monday, with the Democratic gubernatorial candidate to give a major campaign address at a banquet at 6 p.m. at the Weirton Knights of Columbus Hall.

Atty. Edward A. Zagula, chairman, said Smith is scheduled to visit various mill gates at Weirton Steel Co. during the shift changes to greet the workers. He will tour the New Cumberland area in the forenoon and attend a coffee klatch at Butler District party headquarters at 10 a.m.

A tour of the 54-inch strip mill will precede his address at the Knights of Columbus Hall. Smith will also attend the opening of the Grant District Democratic headquarters in Chester later that evening.

Tickets for the banquet are available at the party headquarters at 3082 Main St., Weirton. Atty. Zagula said a limited number will also be sold at the K. of C. Hall.

Salineville Autoist Cited; Another Fined

SALINEVILLE — Ronald Ray Brandonisio, 20, of 79 W. Main St. was cited Thursday by Special Officer Sherman Newlin for driving left of center.

He will receive a hearing Thursday before Mayor Stanley Fitch.

Delmar Gardner of Water St. was fined $10 and costs by Mayor Fitch last night for reckless operation. He was cited Sept. 2 after his car hit a parked vehicle.

John L. Lafferty, 29, of R.D. 2 forfeited a $10 bond for reckless operation. He was cited Tuesday.

Coroner Rules Suicide

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Coroner Robert Evans has ruled that Richard Williams, 24-year-old former mechanic at North American Aviation, died of a self-inflicted bullet wound. Williams' body was discovered Thursday in his home several hours after he was questioned concerning the theft of several items from the North American plant.

It is not known just how or when the Golden Rule in the Bible was first so-called. It is found in the English language as early as 1674, when it was cited in Murray's Oxford Dictionary.

Accident

mated it would be "several thousand dollars."

Conflicting stories were given by several witnesses although most agreed that the instructor apparently suffered the seizure as his car neared the intersection.

Verna Louise Fitch, 21, of Dixonville, who was behind the McKeel auto, told investigating officers that the car backed into her auto owned by Mike Turk Inc., moved forward and then backed into her again before suddenly careening forward at a high rate of speed, knocking the mail box off a cement standard and hitting the March auto halted on E. 5th St. before plunging into the Shaw entrance.

Richard Tucker of Glenmoor related to officers that Mr. McKeel was slumped over the wheel of his auto as it roared through the intersection.

Another witness, Donald White of 60-A Midland Heights, said as the car went past him the driver appeared to be having a seizure. He told officers the accelerator appeared to be pressed to the floor.

Thomas Graham of Fisher Park said he saw the black convertible move up Market St. at a high rate of speed. The motor appeared to be running at top speed when it hit the mail box, he told police.

Kenny Powell of Substation Rd. said the McKeel auto side-swiped the Ford operated by Miss Fitch before striking the mail box and the March auto, knocking it into the front of a 1958 sedan.

The sedan was operated by Raymond R. Brown, 32, of Holidaysburg, Pa., who was halted behind the March auto.

Police also took statements from Ernest Cross, 619 Riverside Ave., Wellsville, Gerald D. Foust of Salem and Keith Nelson, 215 Thompson Ave.

The impact hurled the mail box to a point near the New York Restaurant on Market St. and shoved the March car sideways until it was facing the jewelry store.

Dr. Roy C. Costello, deputy coroner, was called to investigate, police said. Police said the damage to the jewelry store included the double doors on E. 5th St., and a large window and a showcase which were broken, a rack of ware was damaged and marble facing and plaster cracked.

There was extensive damage to the front end of the 1963 convertible and to the front end and right side of the 1963 sedan operated by Mrs. March. The left front of the Brown sedan also was damaged along with minor damage to the car operated by Miss Fitch.

Mr. McKeel had been assigned as a sixth grade teacher in Westgate elementary staff. He had taught at Pymatuning Valley schools in Ashtabula County before accepting the post here.

He was born at Thompson Falls, Mont., March 2, 1924, son of Mrs. Mabel Laine of Thompson Falls and the late Jefferson C. McKeel.

He was a Navy veteran of World War II and the Korean conflict and received his master's degree from Montana State University.

Besides his mother, he is survived by his widow, Mrs. Esther McKeel of Andover, and a sister, Mrs. Catherine O'Hare of Billings, Mont.

The body was taken to the Dawson Funeral Home and will be sent to the Shriver Funeral Home in Plains, Mont., for services and burial.

Skid Mishap Hurts Cyclist

A New Waterford area motorcyclist is in Salem City Hospital with injuries suffered when his cycle hit a guardrail on the Y. & O. Rd. Thursday night—one of two cycle mishaps in which two others were hurt.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Everett Vocature, 33, of New Waterford R.D. 1 was injured when his cycle apparently skidded on loose gravel and hit the guardrail about 10:30 p.m.

He was treated at City Hospital for bruises and abrasions of the face, arms and knees, and later admitted to Salem City Hospital.

Charles Hall, 22, of Mount Acres Trailer Court and Mrs. Ellen Sue Looman, 19, of Chester were treated at City Hospital at 6:30 p.m. for injuries suffered when they fell from a motorcycle which went over a hill on the Fredericktown Rd.

The woman suffered abrasions of the left elbow and right knee and side, and he received abrasions of the knee, forearm and fingers. The patrol had no report of the mishap.

Kaycees Expect 60 At Salineville Dinner Program

The Cardinal Mercier Assembly of Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus will hold its annual Constitution Day dinner program Sunday night at 5:30 at St. Patrick's Catholic Church at Salineville with 60 members and wives expected to attend.

James McGowan, faithful navigator of the assembly of membership from five Columbiana County Knights of Columbus Councils, said the newly-appointed Eastern District master, Wilfred Herbert, of Canton will be principal speaker.

Guests will include Larry Rogers of Warren, past state deputy, and Stephen Vano of Youngstown, retiring master, and their wives. The district takes in the Youngstown Diocese.

Participating councils in the assembly include East Liverpool, Wellsville, Salineville, East Palestine and Lisbon.

John E. Johnston of East Liverpool, former district master, will be chairman. McGowan will preside.

Women of the church will serve the dinner in the Parish Hall.

State Reports Discussed At Nurses' Meeting Here

Reports from the state level were heard when District 3 of the Ohio State Nurses Association met Wednesday night at the Harker-Metsch Nurses Home at City Hospital.

Mrs. Violet Collingwood and Miss Peg Sullivan reported 836 members and 144 associates in the state.

The program report by, given by Mrs. Donna Simms, included a public card party to be held in the near future in Youngstown. Proceeds will go for bonds to be presented to a student at each of the district nursing schools.

Mrs. Virginia Williams, director of nursing at Woodside Receiving Hospital, Youngstown, reported on mental research.

Mrs. Mildred Engel, president, reminded members of the workshop on economic security Sept. 26 at Youngstown Southside Hospital.

A panel discussion was held on the recent convention of the American Nurses Association at Atlantic City.

Local delegates named to the state convention Oct. 5-8 at Columbus were Mrs. Senja Vaughn, Miss Ethelyn Exley, Mrs. Wilma Nichols and Mrs. Blanche Apel.

Miss Kathryn Gabriel, from St. Elizabeth Hospital in Youngstown, discussed the recognition she received recently when she was named "Miss Student Nurse of 1964 of Ohio."

Mrs. Margaret Gallagher read the minutes. A tour of the new home was conducted by Miss Exley and Mrs. Sarah Davis.

Refreshments were served at a buffet table decorated with a fall centerpiece and colors of green, gold and yellow. Miss Karole Kapp poured at the silver service.

The social committee was Mrs. Nichols, president of the Alumnae Association, Mrs. Vaughn and Mrs. Ila Shingler.

The first iron furnaces were called "iron bloomeries."

Municipal Court Revenue Drops

Municipal Court revenue declined $320 in August, totaling $3,684 last month compared with $4,004 in July, the monthly report of Wilbur J. Harmon, clerk, showed.

The city's share of the revenue was $3,241 last month, down $398 from the $3,639 turned over to the municipal treasury from July receipts.

Last month's city share included $262 in civil costs and $2,803 in fines, costs and forfeitures in criminal cases. The city also was paid $175 as its share of State Highway Patrol cases.

Besides the amount turned over to the city, the court also paid $175 to the state treasurer, $176 to the county treasurer and $91 to the Law Library Association.

The total amount handled last month was $8,197, a drop of $1,419 from the $9,616 in July. The August figure includes $3,503 in the civil branch and $4,693 in the criminal branch.

A breakdown showed 33 civil cases filed in August, 21 disposed of and 200 pending; 104 city criminal cases filed, 98 disposed of and 92 pending, and 63 state criminal cases filed, 58 disposed of and 139 pending.

Mrs. Katherine H. James of Uhrichsville, newly-named director of District 8, paid her first official visit at the opening fall dinner meeting of the East Liverpool Business and Professional Women's Club Wednesday night at the Travelers Hotel.

A teacher, who also operates an antique shop, she was introduced by Mrs. Ethel Lynn Wambaugh, state third vice president. Mrs. James spoke on the forthcoming fall conference of the district Sept. 20 at the Pick-Ohio Hotel in Youngstown. The event will be held jointly with District 5. Registration will open at 9:30 a.m. Mrs. Mary Franklin is handling local reservations. All officers and committee chairmen are to attend.

Mrs. Doris McKinnon, president, conducted business with Mrs. Mildred Cooper, recording secretary, reading the minutes, and Miss Helen Auld, treasurer, the financial report.

Correspondence, read by Mrs. Franklin, included an invitation to the opening dinner meeting of the Steubenville Club Tuesday when Mrs. Jeanne Squires, state first vice president, will be speaker.

Mrs. Nessie Dunlop spoke on the school bond issue, following which the club endorsed the proposal.

Mrs. Carolyn Mountford, civic participation chairman, read a letter from Mrs. Nancy Cowan, state chairman, in regards to the establishment of an Ohio Commission on the Status of Women. The group voted to obtain as many endorsements as possible to be sent to Mrs. Cowan.

Support for the membership campaign of the Tri-State Civic Music Association, now in progress, was urged by Mrs. Gertrude Lowe.

Mrs. May Hartt, Child Health Clinic chairman, reported on purchase of toys for the Christmas party and asked members to turn in coupons on food articles offering gifts.

Mrs. McKinnon announced she has tickets for a knitwear style show to be sponsored by the Lisbon Club Oct. 1 at Lincoln School.

Miss Joan Witt, first vice president and program co-ordinator, distributed directories.

Mrs. Wambaugh will attend the leadership conference of the National Federation Friday through Sunday at Louisville, Ky.

Mrs. Wilma Mason, chairman of the personal development committee in charge of the meeting, introduced the program, "Fashions of Laughter." Mrs. Lydia Crawford, vice chairman, assisted.

Mrs. Betty Reed, commentator, opened the humorous style show with a poem, "Ten Rules of Laughter." Mrs. Ellen Kell provided organ background music.

Models were Mrs. Mary Ruth Bebout, Mrs. Miriam Dunn, Mrs. Lillie Belle Leonard, Mrs. Margaret Thompson, Mrs. Florence Sweeney, Miss Karole Kapp, Miss Marilyn Wolfe, Mrs. Sally Mase and Miss Gloria Ann Naughton.

Covers were arranged for 60 at tables decorated with various floral arrangements with matching flowers attached in vials to the white tapers.

Guest Night will be observed at the next meeting Oct. 14 at the Mary Patterson Memorial. The civic participation and legislation committees will present a style show.

Missionary's Work Related To Women's Church Group

Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Reynolds were guest speakers when the Women's Association of the Emmanuel Presbyterian Church met Wednesday night in the social rooms.

They told of the work of their son, Dr. Dan Reynolds, who has served as a medical missionary at Pokwo, Ethiopia, Africa. He is now in the states on furlough. Color slides were screened. A question-and-answer period followed.

The Reynolds were introduced by Mrs. Paul Burrows, program chairman. Reynolds conducted devotions. Mrs. William Malkin led the group in a responsive reading.

Mrs. Robert Futhey received and dedicated "The Fellowship Of The Least Coin."

Business was conducted by Mrs. Futhey, president, who announced an organ recital will be presented by Mrs. Jane Rife, church organist, the afternoon of Sept. 20. A social hour will follow.

Mrs. Russell Mase reported on the Synodical held recently at Wooster and Mrs. Futhey on the goal sheet meeting at Wellsville.

Plans were made for a rummage sale Oct. 19-24 in the rear of the City Market Building, with Mrs. William Laughlin chairman.

Refreshments were served to 18 by Mrs. Harry Hill, Mrs. Mase and Mrs. Laughlin. Silver appointments decorated the buffet table centered with an arrangement of white and orchid mums and pink snapdragons.

Mrs. Futhey poured at the silver service.

A thank-offering film strip will be screened at the next session Nov. 1 at the church.

Lausche, Young Votes Listed On Senate Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio's two Democratic senators, Frank J. Lausche and Stephen Young, voted with the majority Thursday as the Senate, by a 63-30 vote, defeated the cloture motion of Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., to try to close debate on his reappointment rider to the foreign aid bill.

On the motion to table the reappointment rider, Lausche voted with the majority which defeated the proposal 49-38. Young was not recorded as voting.

The Senate also defeated, 50-37, a Republican resolution to have the government operations committee, rather than the rules committee, take over the reopening of the Bobby Baker investigation.

Lausche was one of five Democrats and 32 Republicans in favor of the resolution. Young did not vote, but was announced as for the proposal.

The Senate then adopted, 75-3, a resolution directing the rules committee to reopen the Baker investigation and an alleged $35,000 payoff by contractor Matthew McCloskey, former ambassador to Ireland.

Lausche voted for passage and Young was announced in favor, although he did not vote.

Mary Elaine Gengarella, F. J. Santora Jr. Are Wed

At a late summer wedding, Miss Mary Elaine Gengarella, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gengarella of Beaver Ave., Midland, became the bride of Frank James Santora Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. F. J. Santora of Pittsburgh, Saturday afternoon in the Midland Presentation Catholic Church.

The single-ring ceremony was performed by Fr. John Sabovik, assistant pastor, before an altar decorated with standards of white gladioli and white chrysanthemums. Side altars were banked with arrangements of clobotiums, palms and ferns.

Miss Andrea Genevieve of Rochester was the organist and sang "Ave Maria." Hymns were also sung by the Presentation Choir.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, appeared in a white sheath gown of delustered satin, styled with a round scoop neckline, long tapered sleeves and highlights of Alencon lace, seed pearls and crystals from the neckline to the hemline. The detachable skirt featured a chapel train.

An Alencon lace open crown headpiece held the harem English silk illusion veil in place. She carried a cascade of white bouquet of orchids and ivy on a white missal, a gift of Miss Anna Marie Zuppe, one of the bridesmaids.

Miss Janet Erzen of Rochester, a cousin of the bride, was maid of honor and was attired in an emerald sheath silk chignon gown, fashioned with a removable jacket, bateau neckline, full chiffon bracelet sleeves and a flat bow in back of the jacket. Her headpiece was a satin Dior bow with bouffant nose veil. She carried a cascade arrangement of Fugi mums and pompons.

Bridesmaids were Miss Gloria Ann Gengarella, cousin of the bride, Miss Judith Santora, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Elaine Lamont of Pittsburgh and Miss Zuppe.

Their gowns and headpieces were identical to those of the maid of honor, and their bouquets were styled similar to that of Miss Erzen.

The bride's mother chose a citrus yellow chiffon ensemble with jacket and matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a three-piece beige silk suit with matching accessories. Both wore double white orchids.

made when the auxiliary of Post 4 met Tuesday night in the Siff Building.

Mrs. Hazel Shawke will be social chairman for the event Tuesday night. Mrs. Grace Ann Smith will purchase gifts. A bake and white elephant sale will be featured.

Mrs. Leona Swiger, president, presided with reports heard from Mrs. Smith, secretary, and Miss Jane Smith, treasurer.

Mrs. Carrie Beal, Mrs. Pauline McBane and Mrs. Irene Hughey were named to the executive committee.

The sum of $10 was allocated for a needy family.

CYSTIC MASTITIS

Q. I have heard that cystic mastitis (my friend has it) is a form of cancer. Is this true?

A. No. Cystic mastitis (cyst formation in the ducts of the breast) is a non-cancerous disease. This is not to say, however, that the condition should be ignored. In fact, frequent, periodic examinations are advisable for those who have cystic mastitis. Very often the doctor will choose to withdraw (aspirate) the contents of larger cysts. It's a simple procedure that can be done in the office.

LOSS OF BALANCE

Q. My sister, who is 65, has no sense of balance. Would you please explain what causes this and what medication to take?

A. Extreme dizziness or loss of balance may be due to any of several disorders, all of which are serious and must be dealt with by a physician. Unsteadiness may be the result of a stroke or of damage to the organ of balance located within the inner ear. Persistent dizziness may also be due to chronic inflammation and fluid accumulation in the inner ear. Persons affected in this way should receive a complete evaluation by a physician.

Remember — the diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's personal physician.

Mr., Mrs. P. E. Ross Jr. Now 'At Home' In Chester

Mr. and Mrs. Perry E. Ross Jr. have returned from a honeymoon and are residing at 444 Indiana Ave., Chester, following their marriage the morning of Aug. 22 at the Sacred Heart Catholic Church of Chester.

The bride was Miss Mary Josephine Lako, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Lako, 305 Carolina Ave., Chester, and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Perry E. Ross, 649 Spring Grove Ave.

Fr. Eugene Jacobs, pastor, officiated for the double-ring ceremony before an altar banked with gladiolus, mums, palms and ferns. William J. Bourne, organist, sang "Mother at Thy Feet Kneeling" as the bride placed a bouquet of flowers before the statue of the Blessed Virgin.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace fashioned with a Basque bodice, long, pointed sleeves and a chapel train. The bouffant skirt was dramatized by a scalloped hemline. A garland of roses at the waist, sweeping lower in the back, provided accent.

Her half-crown of pearls, crystals and lace, sitting low on the forehead, held her bouffant veil of imported silk illusion. She carried a cascade arrangement of orchids, stephanotis and ivy tied with satin streamers.

Mrs. Richard Bangor, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and wore a dress of ice blue lace with matching shoes and pillbox headpiece and theater veil. She carried an arrangement of white pompons with the tips tinted blue.

Joyce Ann Bangor, niece of the bride, was flower girl and wore a white dress and headpiece. She carried a basket of blue tipped white pompons. Randall Bangor, the bride's nephew, was ringbearer.

Earl Groubert, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were his cousins, Charles Lowe and Colin Lowe.

The mother of the bride chose a dress of beige lace with pink accessories and the bridegroom's mother, a green and white dress with white accessories. White orchid corsages complemented their attire.

A 1 o'clock dinner was served 100 at St. Aloysius Parochial School Hall, where a reception for 300 followed in the evening. Joseph and Thomas Arcuragi provided background music with an accordion and drums.

The buffet table was centered with a three-tier cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. Members of Court Dunne 937, Catholic Daughters of America were in charge of the reception and provided decorations for a garden setting.

Guests were from New York, Cleveland, Coraopolis, Weirton, Steubenville, Newell, Chester and Pittsburgh.

For traveling, the bride wore a blue lace dress with black accessories and her bridal orchids.

The bride is a graduate of Chester High School and the City Hospital School of Nursing, where she has remained on the staff as head nurse in the operating room.

Her husband was graduated from East Liverpool High School and is employed as a substation operator with the Crucible Steel Co. at Midland.

Event To Be Tonight

Reception To Open Music Drive

But a ticket for a song?

That's the question the Tri-State Civic Music Association is putting to area residents in the new membership campaign opening tonight with a meeting and reception at the Travelers Hotel.

Tickets are $7.50 for adults and $3.50 for students, and there is a family plan available for the first time, in which two adult and two student tickets cost $19, a savings of $3.

Telephone contacts are part of the job of getting new members and here Mrs. Lila Belle Brooks, campaign chairman, chats with a patron with Miss Janet Sprout, representing the New York Civic Concert Service, and Paul H. Blair, local president, looking on.

Three concerts are definitely scheduled, and if the response to the membership appeal is great enough, there may be others. Selected already are the Turnau Opera Co. in "LaBoheme," Stecher and Horwitz, piano duo chosen by popular demand, and Joy Kim, soprano.

Tickets may be purchased at the Civic Music headquarters in the Travelers Hotel, where two phones are in service. The numbers are 385-2738 or 385-2739.

Money for tickets may be sent to the association in care of Post Office Box 645 in East Liverpool.

Tonight's kickoff meeting will begin at 8. The fall membership campaign will extend through Sept. 19.

Senior Citizens Are Offered Land For Future Home

The Senior Citizens Group has been offered a tract of land near Lisbon which could be used as a future home.

The donation of the land was submitted by John Beatty during the group's meeting Thursday afternoon at the Parish House of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church.

Harry Davis, Olie Campbell and Charles Pritchett, president, were named to look into the project.

Mrs. Rozella Hickenbottom introduced Beatty.

Louis Groggode, a member, gave a talk on a recent trip he made to scenic areas near Dover.

A moment of silent prayer was held for the late Arch Mullen, a former member.

John Barrett, vice president, presided in the absence of Pritchett.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Exercise Cannot Grow Fatty Tissue

The role of exercise in toning the triceps on backs of upper arms and the pectoral muscles of the chest appears to puzzle some readers. A Missourian writes:

"I wish to have more information regarding the isometric exercise in which you place the fist of one hand in the palm of the other hand, elbows bent, hands held in front of chest. The action is to p-r-e-s-s inward and hold for six seconds."

Ida Jean Kain

weight is as important to changing the size of the too large bust as gaining weight is to the girl with the too small bust. Although the breasts are glands, they are supported by the powerful pectoral muscles which lie just underneath the breasts. The pectorals spread fanwise across the chest, clear to the collarbones, and narrow in a fan handle which inserts in a groove in the upper arm. When the supporting muscle is in tone, the bust is held in a normal position. When tone is lost, the breasts sag, and excess fat increases the sagging. As weight is reduced, it is important to restore tone to the pectorals.

MUSCLES involved in exercise action: The pectoral muscles are reached by an inward press. This resistance press also brings the triceps on the backs of the upper arms into the action.

Try this resistance push: Position: Lie on back in an open doorway, shoulders in line with doorjamb. Have elbows bent and hands against each side of doorway. This position is more comfortable when knees are bent.

Action: Press hands outwards and push vigorously against each side of doorjamb. Hold this push for a slow count of eight. Relax, and repeat 3 times. Do not hold the contraction for longer than eight counts. This exercise will restore tone to the triceps and beautify upper arms. It also strengthens the middle portion of the pectoral muscles of the chest.

Gentle Prodding Helps Boy's Reading

Often in this column I have urged parents to stimulate, even require, children from the time they can read at all to do a bit of extra reading at home every day. Encouraged at reading this advice, a Minnesota mother reports as follows: "We have a boy, eight, who is Dr. Garry Myers lazy. He must be pushed firmly into anything that takes an effort. He is a poor reader and all of his teachers—he just finished third grade—have agreed that he shouldn't be pressured as he is nervous."

Dr. Garry Myers

"I WENT along with this till the end of his second grade and then I found out he had above-average intelligence and so I figured a little pressure would not hurt him. I had him read 25 books through the summer. He eventually went into the middle readers this year in school."

"He doesn't really enjoy reading, but neither does he hate it. He must be pushed but then he does accept it. I hope this pays off some day for him. I may add that both my husband and I read whenever we can and our son rather resents it. I have always read to him and this he really enjoys."

"Our second child is a girl, age seven, and she is the opposite of him — easy - going, cheerful, ambitious and never needs pushing. She finished first grade this year and reads everything from her books to the newspaper. She tells everything that went on at school, whereas the boy never brings a paper home and most of the time he doesn't remember to take things to school that he should."

"By the way, I'm secretary of our PTA and next year I hope to start a reading program—it would be a wonderful thing."

"THANK you for taking the time to read this and please continue your articles. They are sound and so full of common sense, and so refreshing in comparison with some that give the feeling that the children are all so sweet and have no problems and if they do, we parents have failed."

My reply in part. You are right in requiring your son to do considerable reading. Your theory proved correct when he read 25 books during the summer, and advanced to the middle reading group at school. I assume you are skillful in your procedure, avoiding as little resistance and getting as much cooperation as possible.

I hope you help him find books of strong interest appeal to him, not babyish in content, but easier to read than most school books of his grade.

Do go with him, you or Dad, to look over books at the library and at good book stores. Also a subscription to one or several of the children's magazines might bring good results.

As his sister is so good a reader, he in contrast may feel overshadowed and, therefore, less enthusiastic about reading. Be careful not to dwell too strongly on her successes in his presence. As he continues to read more, he surely will grow in reading skill and thus gain more satisfaction from his reading.

I HOPE you limit his time of TV-viewing and forbid programs of violence. You say he is high - strung. Try to provide him with a family atmosphere of cheerfulness and serenity. Encourage him in outdoor fun with other boys of his age, but protect him from too great excitement and fatigue.

Perhaps Dad could do most for this boy, going places with him, sometimes taking his pals along, and having fun with him. I hope Dad doesn't dote too much on the attractive, outgoing daughter.

The New Boron gasoline contains an exclusive Valve Cleaner that actually cleans valves while you drive. You can see the big difference yourself, in the comparison photos above. After 8,195 miles of actual driving, The New Boron cleaned away almost all the deposits formed in 39,200 miles.

The amount of deposit on your valves will vary, depending on the characteristics of the engine.

No matter what your mileage is right now, you can start using The New Boron today, and the deposits on your valves will be reduced.

House Vote Set Thursday On Medicare

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House leadership has set next Thursday for a vote on the proposal to finance medical care for the elderly through Social Security.

The vote will come on the question of whether to send the bill, passed by the Senate, to a conference of both houses. The Senate attached a medical care rider to the bill previously passed by the House.

Backers of the proposal are expected to seek a vote instructing conferees to take certain positions on the measure. If so, it would be the first time that the principle of Social Security financings of hospital care for persons over 65 has come to a vote in the House.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force chief of staff, Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, says U.S. continental aerospace defense is strong in the areas of early warning and command and control.

Addressing a meeting of the Air Force Association Thursday, LeMay said fighters equipped with new intercept radar and infrared search and track equipment plus Bomarc missiles are on continuous alert in both Canada and the United States.

"These aircraft, together with the Army's Nike and Hawk missiles and certain naval elements provide a credible continental defense against the manned bomber threat," LeMay said.

WASHINGTON (AP)—With a bow Thursday to William Shakespeare, Secretary of State Dean Rusk swore in James L. Greenfield as assistant secretary for public affairs.

Drawing from the bard's play Anthony and Cleopatra, Rusk envisioned Greenfield saying to State Department officials, "Pour out the pack of matter to mine ear, the good and bad together."

And, from the same play, he said Greenfield might get this response from department officials: "Though it be honest, it is never good to bring bad news; give to a gracious message an host of tongues; but let ill tidings tell themselves."

"Nuts" would be Greenfield's non-Shakespearean reply, Rusk conjectured.

Ohio's Crop Yield Indicated For 1964

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department has announced the indicated yield per acre and production, respectively, of important Ohio crops for this year, as follows:

Corn for grain—74 bushels an acre and 214,822,000 total production.

Winter wheat—33 bushels an acre and 45,342,000.

Oats — 55 bushels an acre and 36,630,000.

Soybeans for beans—24.5 bushels an acre and 44,296,000.

Tobacco — 1,728 pounds an acre and 22,810,000.

Sugar beets—14.5 tons an acre and 435,000 tons.

Apples—(Production only) 4,200,000 bushels.

Youngster, 11, Admits Setting Fire In Church

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — An 11-year-old boy, who said he "wanted to see the excitement of the fire trucks and the crowds" has admitted setting a fire in a church.

The youth, whose name was withheld, is reported by Police Lt. Ed Wright to have told Youth Aid Bureau officers that he set the fire which did an estimated $25,000 to $50,000 damage to the Chisholm Methodist Church eight days ago.

Area Groups To Attend Lions Fall Conference

Lions Clubs in Chester, Newell and New Cumberland will send large delegations to the annual Lions fall conference Saturday night at the Weirton Community Center in Weirton.

The event will feature an address by Aubrey D. Green of York, Ala., immediate past international president, and a 30-minute concert by the Weirton Steel Male Chorus.

Walter L. Jordan of Chester, governor of District 29-L, will preside. About 400 delegates, representing 44 clubs, are expected to attend.

The speaker will be introduced by Dudley L. Simms of Charleston, past international president. Visiting officials will include past international director and Mrs. Walter Purdy of Ravenswood; past international director Homer Hoover of Wooster; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stein of Point Pleasant, governor of District 29-O; Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Lugar of Oceana, district governor of District 29-N; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Cooper of Elkins, district governor of District 29-L.

Delegations are expected also from Canton and Beaver Falls clubs. Jordan announced plans for a membership development program during October and said his goal is 200 new members in the district. He has asked the Chester club to strive for five new members in October.

Attending from the Chester club will be Mr. and Mrs. Sayre W. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Hobbs Jr., president, Mr. and Mrs. John Abrams, and Mr. and Mrs. Michael Vittiles, in addition to Jordan and his wife.

Ashtabula Man Will Aid County's Planning Group

LISBON — Eber Wright, Ashtabula County Regional Planning Commission director, was retained as an adviser to the Columbiana County Regional Planning Commission at a meeting of the county unit's executive committee Thursday night.

Wright will be paid a fee for trips made to meet with the county commission or committees to advise them on planning methods and needs.

The executive committee also approved plans for utilizing the services of a secretary now employed by the Lisbon Chamber of Commerce and the village government in an office at the village hall.

The commission will pay one-third of the salary of Miss Mary Ann Guappone and share the cost of operating the office. Floyd Lower, president of the commission, made the arrangements for the services of the secretary to help meet the clerical needs of the commission which is preparing a comprehensive survey of county characteristics and facilities.

Following the meeting of the committee at the St. George's Parish Hall, a general session of the Planning Commission and area government officials and guests attended a slide lecture on soil by Sam Bone of the Ohio Soil Inventory Board at Columbus.

Flower Show Set Monday At Ohio View

The annual flower show will be held at the first meeting of the Ohio View-Industry Woman's Club Monday at 8:30 p. m. in Fellowship Hall of the Ohio View Lutheran Church.

Mrs. Jack Peck, community achievement chairman, announced that arrangements will be in three categories: miniature, novelty and table. Prizes will be awarded.

The Rev. Clifford Buell, pastor of the Beaver Methodist Church, will present the topic, "All About Glads."

The hostess committee will include Mrs. Henry Best, Mrs. Harrell Bomar, Mrs. Francis Crytzer, Mrs. Leroy Dunn, Mrs. Edwin Hill, Mrs. Karl Wagoner, Mrs. James Miller, Mrs. Fred Schmitt and Mrs. O. J. Lee.

Mrs. Laco Shreve, president, said that plans for a public card party Dec. 4 will be discussed.

West Point Resident Honored On Birthday

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: What chance does a divorced woman have when a married man goes after her, tells her a string of lies and then, after she has severed all relations with single men who offered marriage, he dumps her?

This story is such a tired one I'm ashamed to tell it. My boss couldn't take his eyes off me. He pursued me as if I were the only woman in the world. I was first flattered, then smitten — and finally hopelessly in love.

From the things he had told me about his wife I was sure she was a mess. Then one day we met. I was stunned. She was a beautiful woman, intelligent, gracious, with a sense of humor and an engaging personality.

What's the matter with a man who would run around and cheat on a woman like that? Why did he chase me? And why is he now chasing another divorcee — this time a plain, unattractive one?

You are the lady with the answers. Do you have one for me?—SCORNEO AND WRATHFUL.

Dear Scorneo and Wrathful: The Don Juans will be with us always. They must keep proving to themselves that they still have it.

But never mind about HIM, let's talk about you. The divorcee is a particularly vulnerable target because she is a lonely woman who feels like a failure. These "losers" would do well to remember that the married man who chases dames is like a dog who runs after a car. He doesn't really mean to catch it.

Slovenly Mother

Dear Ann: My mother is my problem. She doesn't care how she looks around the house. Some days she will walk around in an old ratty bathrobe until 4:30 p.m. I'm afraid to invite any kids over because I never know about her.

Yesterday an especially nice boy came to take me swimming. I wasn't quite ready and Mom sat and talked to him for a few minutes. When I came into the living room and saw her sitting in an unladylike position, with torn hose rolled below the knees I almost died.

That wasn't all, Ann. Her hair was up in rags and she was wearing Dad's army shoes.

When I mentioned this to her she snapped, "If I'm not fancy enough for your friends, that's too bad." Can you suggest something?—PANCAKE.

Dear Ann: What cannot be cured must be endured. You aren't about to change your mother, so you'd better change your attitude.

Never make apologies for your mother. Conduct yourself like a lady even though she is falling a little short of the mark. A truly worthy boy will understand — and he is bound to admire a girl who shows respect under trying conditions.

Brother Rat

Dear Ann: I have been married 11 months. My husband told me before we married that his older brother was going to room and board with us. We needed the money and it seemed like a good idea.

Every three weeks my husband works the night shift for six days. When my brother-in-law and I are alone he makes passes. My husband would knock his head off if he knew.

I hate to make trouble between brothers but I can't stand this much longer. Please tell me what to do. I've learned a lot from your column.—IN A JAM.

Dear In: The Bible says you are your brother's keeper, but it doesn't say anything about keeping a brother who has the morals of a tomat.

Tell "Tom" he has one week to find another place to live or you will speak to your husband about him. And don't fail to make good your threat if he doesn't clear out on schedule.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

$100,000 Aims At Standard Designs For Ohio's Colleges

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The State Controlling Board has released $100,000, aimed at saving $3 million, by having standard designs developed for the interior construction of state university and college buildings.

The money was released Thursday at the request of the Ohio Board of Regents which would contract for the designs for about $200,000. A grant from a Ford Foundation agency for the other $100,000 is expected.

The board would contract with laboratories to develop a design for university branches, community colleges and technical institutes.

In other action, the board: Released $315,000 to buy land and provide facilities for 207 camping sites at Great Lake St.

Marys in Auglaize and Mercer counties.

Released $50,000 for sidewalk and driveway repair at Miami University and $10,000 to buy land for a new university residence hall.

Made $21,500 available to plan a $300,000 reservoir of 170 acres for recreation in the Cooper Hollow Wildlife Area of Jackson County.

Approved $91,000 to repair a public pier in Catawaba Island State Park on Lake Erie and $25,000 for boat launching facilities at South Bass Island State Park.

Approved $43,000 to repair a dormitory at Marion Correctional Institution.

Released $39,800 to repair a Muskingum River dam near Zanesville.

New Chairmen Appointed For 4th St. PTA At Midland

Committee chairmen for the 1964-65 term were appointed by Mrs. Helen Barney, president, at the first fall meeting of the Midland 4th St. Parent-Teacher Association, Thursday afternoon at the school. They include:

Mrs. James Vesco, ways and means; Mrs. Edmund DiCiccio, membership; Mrs. Robert Reichard, hospitality; Mrs. Michael Prodonovich, budget and finance; Mrs. Sam Postich, legislation and parliamentary; Mrs. Paul Vojnovich, scholarship.

Mrs. James Adkins, holiday treats; Mrs. Willie Burks, Christmas decorations; Mrs. James Wilson, publicity; Miss Despena Gagianas, music; Mrs. Gill Clark, magazine; Mrs. Paul Gibson, safety, and Mrs. Lester Barr, mental health.

Supt. Edgar Richards was a guest speaker and was introduced by John Wilson, supervising principal of the Midland Elementary School. Faculty members were introduced by Wilson.

During business conducted by Mrs. Helen Barney, president, plans were made for a carnival Oct. 27 and a book fair Nov. 18 at the high school, co-sponsored by the other two PTA groups — 1st and 7th St. Mrs. Vesco will be chairman of the carnival.

Tentative plans were made for a field trip for the pupils in the spring.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Reichard and Mrs. Donna Suznevich.

Liz And Eddie Win New Round Against Studio

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Elizabeth Taylor and her former husband, singer Eddie Fisher, have won another round in their court battle to force 20th Century-Fox Films to account for revenues from the film "Cleopatra."

For the second time, Federal Judge Thurmond Clarke turned down the studio's attempt Thursday to have the suit dismissed. He refused the first dismissal request May 24.

Miss Taylor and Fisher own 85 per cent of MCL, a Swiss corporation, which in turn owns 35 per cent of the $40 million film. Fox owns 55 per cent and Walwa Films owns the remaining 10 per cent.

Mrs. Goldwater Given Key To Montana City

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (AP) — Mayor Marian Erdmann presented Mrs. Barry Goldwater with a copper key to the city of Great Falls Thursday and said — in a friendly rib at Billings, Mont. — "We do not ask to have it returned."

Billings officials presented Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson with a key to the city last month and Mayor Willard Frazer's efforts to have it returned gained nationwide attention. Frazer later told the First Lady she could keep it but she sent it back anyway.

Two Philadelphia Papers Back Johnson

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Inquirer and the Philadelphia Daily News, in today's editions, endorsed Democrat Lyndon B. Johnson for president.

The newspapers, both owned by Walter Annenberg, list themselves as independent political.

It is the first time that the morning Inquirer has ever endorsed a Democrat for president.

HAROLD WALKER
Due At Rally Saturday.

Guest To Speak For Youth For Christ Meeting

Harold Walker of Auburn, Ind., will be guest speaker at the Columbiana County Youth for Christ rally Saturday at 3:30 p. m. at the Calcutta fire hall.

The rally, which is being held early due to the football game, is open to the public.

The evangelist has appeared in 48 states, Mexico, Canada, the West Indies, Great Britain and Europe and has worked with over 30 different denominational groups.

There will also be a Bible quiz with teams from East Liverpool and Beaver Local High Schools and special music on the electric accordion by Mike Mosura of Industry. A skit, "Great Moments in History," will be given.

Dalrymple Will Present Speaker At GOP's Rally

Allen J. Dalrymple of Wells-ville, a candidate for the 18th District congressional seat, will introduce Sen. Thurston B. Morton when the Kentuckian speaks during the Republican rally near Winterville Saturday afternoon.

Dalrymple also will be a member of the committee which will meet Morton at the Winterville Airport at 3:45 p. m. Other area GOP leaders on the committee are Walter L. Myers Jr., chairman of the Jefferson County Republican Central and Executive Committee; Mrs. Jean Barren, Jefferson County chairwoman; George Crim, vice chairman of the Ohio League of Young Republicans; and Henry R. Sulowski, president of the Winterville Area Republican Club.

The campaign for 18th District Republicans will include an ox roast at the meeting site, on Two Ridge Road, west of Winterville.

Morton is scheduled to speak between 5 and 6 p. m.

New Club Holds Its First Meeting At Ohioville Hall

The first meeting of the fall season for the newly formed Ohioville Homemakers Club was held Wednesday afternoon in the Ohioville fire hall.

A demonstration and discussion of flower arranging was presented by Mrs. David Stevenson of Dawson Ridge, member of the Tusca Garden Club.

Mrs. Ralph Horn, chairman, presided during the business session and announced that the Christmas workshop will be held Nov. 5. She will attend a meeting of the Agricultural Society in Beaver next week.

Mrs. Ruth Markle was named project leader and other officers, Mrs. Vern Watson, Mrs. Richard Rice and Mrs. John Flasco, were introduced.

Mrs. Wes Saucer and Mrs. Earl Sherman were hostesses. Twenty attended.

The next meeting will be Oct. 13, with the public invited.

Serviceman Promoted

EAST PALESTINE — Lyle R. Jenkins, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sebert Jenkins of 244 S. Market St., has been promoted to specialist fourth class with the 485th Preventive Medicine Unit near Stuttgart, Germany. A lab technician, he entered the Army in 1962.

Fawcett Says He'll Not Quit As OSU Head

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP)—Novice G. Fawcett said in a statement today he has changed his mind and will not resign as president of Ohio State University.

The statement issued as university trustees prepared to meet said Fawcett "came to this meeting with the full intent of seeking retirement from public education at the end of the coming academic year in order to become executive vice president of the American Automobile Association."

"After several hours in personal consultation with members of the board of trustees, I was persuaded that the best interests of higher education in general in Ohio and Ohio State University in particular would be served if I would remain in my present position."

"I have therefore decided to continue my efforts with the same dedication I have given to this role in the past."

Fawcett reportedly had received an attractive offer from the AAA, including liberal retirement provisions. At Ohio State he is paid $40,000 a year and has a house provided, along with a car and driver.

A former Columbus school superintendent, Fawcett has been OSU president since 1956.

The dollar was fixed as the unit of currency in the U.S. on April 6, 1972, by Act of Congress.

Lecturer To Speak

United Jewish Appeal Program Set Sunday

Dr. Arie L. Plotkin, prominent lecturer presently engaged in teaching and research work in the United States, will speak on behalf of the United Jewish Appeal at an 11:45 brunch Sunday at Beth Shalom Temple.

The UJA is the major American agency aiding immigrants to Israel, and refugees and distressed Jews overseas, with three member agencies.

They are the United Israel Appeal—Jewish Agency for Israel, Inc., which helps to receive, settle and absorb immigrants to Israel; the Joint Distribution Committee, which helps Jews in 27 countries, including Israel, and the New York Association for New Americans, which assists Jewish refugees to the United States. The United Nias Service, which provides for the resettlement of Jewish refugees to countries other than Israel, also benefits from the UJA drive.

An authority on international relations, international law and comparative government, Dr. Plotkin was educated at the universities of Jerusalem and London. He was the first citizen of Israel admitted to Princeton University's Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs.

He obtained his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from Princeton, where he taught in the Department of Politics, and is a member of the American Political Science Association and the American Society of International Law.

He joined the Haganah in Israel in 1937, shortly after his arrival from Germany as a teen-ager, and served as an officer in the Intelligence Corps of Israel's Defense Army from its inception in 1948.

Dr. Plotkin, who has appeared on Voice of America broadcasts and lectured for the universities of Wisconsin and Minnesota, has a keen insight into Israeli and Arab problems, and an understanding of Jewish affairs, sponsors said.

Oak Glen-Wellsville Tussle Tops Area Card Tonight

ELHS, Midland In Saturday Starts

Although baseball weather prevails, the district high school gridders launch the 1964 campaign this weekend with 12 games scheduled over the next two days.

Headlining tonight's seven-game card is the Wellsville-Oak Glen battle at Newell's Memorial Field where a fullhouse is expected for the battle between the neighboring schools.

SATURDAY night East Liverpool's opening with Beaver Local grabs most of the spotlight along with Midland's home opener with Erie McDowell.

Oak Glen is the only team in the district to have played this season dropping a 22-6 encounter to St. Mary's last week.

In the defeat, Oak Glen did show some bright spots that brought encouragement to Coach Bob Starkey.

MEANWHILE, Wellsville shows some speed and experience this season something the Tigers had been lacking in the past.

Kickoff Time Here . . .

With a new 1964 model crystal ball at our disposal, we're again set for another pigskin season.

The crystal ball isn't always right, as you know, but here's what it shows for the first football weekend.

As far as tonight's contests are concerned, with a game under its belt, we like Oak Glen, by a touch-down over Wellsville; Columbiana to nip Hubbard; Canfield by a slight edge over East Palestine; Leetonia to top United; Salem in a victory over Cleveland Lincoln; Stanton to down Hopedale, and Lisbon to defeat Carrollton.

Saturday's games look like this: East Liverpool a lopsided choice over Beaver Local, but the Beavers can't forget that 51-0 beating last season. Midland to edge Erie McDowell; Center Twp. to get past South Side, and Southern Local a slight favorite over Greenford.

Record Sale Of Season Tickets . . .

EAST LIVERPOOL got off on the right foot on the sale of season tickets.

A committee of 15 men, headed by Harry McConville, pushed a drive that showed 661 season tickets sold for a new record at ELHS.

The old mark was 548 last season.

McConville wishes to thank the members of the ticket committee for their help in the successful drive.

Holtz At Connecticut . . .

LOU HOLTZ, a former Potter griddier, is quite busy these days helping prepare the University of Connecticut football team for its opening contest with Yale Sept. 26.

Connecticut plays a schedule that lists such tough Eastern foes as Yale, Rutgers, Boston U. and Holy Cross, along with the usual Yankee Conference teams.

Rick Forzano, the head coach who was formerly an assistant at Kent State and Navy, said "Holtz is one of the fine young assistant coaches in the country. A tremendous student of the game, he can coach any phase." Forzano coached Holtz at Kent State.

Lou is the first assistant and coaches offensive backs and defensive linebackers.

He served at William and Mary last year before being appointed to the post at Connecticut on Jan. 16.

Lou began coaching at Kent State, then served under Forrest Evashevski and Jerry Burns at Iowa in 1960.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

IN ANSWER To several questions as to who won the National Colt League tournament, the title went to Northeast of Houston, Tex. Charlotte, N. C., which won the tourney at Charlotte where East Liverpool was eliminated, was defeated by Houston and Riverside, Calif., in two straight games at the National finals in Shawnee, Okla.

Travel Day Is Dropped During World Series

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — The 1964 World Series will be unique in at least one respect, and possibly in two.

There will be no travel day if only Eastern or only Midwestern teams are involved, breaking the pattern of recent years, and refuting, says Commissioner Ford Frick, the contention that the travel day was inserted in the Series program just to assure a Sunday television game.

Thus, if the Series is between the Philadelphia Phillies of the National League, and the Baltimore Orioles or New York Yankees of the American League, the Series will start Wednesday, Oct. 7, in the Phillies' park for two games, and move immediately to the American League park for the next three games.

If one team were to win four straight in the best four-out-of-seven the Series could end on Saturday. If the Series is between the Chicago White Sox and the Cincinnati Reds or St. Louis Cardinals there also will be no open day.

Representatives of the three closely bunched American League teams — White Sox, Yankees, and Orioles — met in Frick's office Thursday with the four National League contenders, the front-running Phillies, plus the Reds, Cardinals, and San Francisco Giants.

These facts were fixed: The Series will open Oct. 7 in the National League park for the first two games, followed by three in the American League park, then two more if needed in the National League park; Ticket prices will be $12 per game for box seats, $8 for reserved, $4 for unreserved and standing room, and $2 for bleachers, in all cases tax included; all games start at 1 p.m., local time; there would be a travel day between changes except in the situations listed.

The second way this Series could be unique is this: The American League race is so close there could even be a three-way tie for first. In that case there would be a round-robin elimination, teams dropping out after losing two games. This could run six days. Even if this could be started on Monday, Oct. 5, the day after the regular season closes, and there were no weather delays, it could run through Oct. 10.

Then there would be an open day, and the Series would start Oct. 12, by which time there could be snow in the air in such cities as Chicago, New York, Philadelphia and possibly Baltimore, and the college and professional football seasons would be approaching the midway point.

If it is just a two way tie in either league, the winner would be settled by a best two-out-of-three playoff.

Kickoff for the Oak - Glen-Wellsville tussle is 8 p.m.

In other games tonight, Stanton Local, under its new coach

Oak Glen-Wellsville Tickets On Sale At 6

A supply of 500 reserved seat tickets at $1.25 each will go on sale tonight at 6 at the gates of Newell Memorial Field for the Oak Glen-Wellsville High football game, Oak Glen Principal E. Russell Slack announced. Also on sale will be general admission tickets at $1 each, plus season tickets costing $7. The kickoff will be at 8.

Here's District Football Card

TONIGHT
Wellsville at Oak Glen
Columbiana at Hubbard
Canfield at East Palestine
United at Leetonia
Cleveland Lincoln at Salem
Stanton Local at Hopedale
Carrollton at Lisbon

Saturday
Beaver Local at East Liverpool
Erie McDowell at Midland
South Side vs. Center Twp. at Monaca
Southern Local at Greenford

Howard Gilgar, puts his big forward wall on the line at Hopedale.

TRI-COUNTY teams are in non-league action tonight with Columbiana visiting Hubbard while Canfield invades East Palestine. Carrollton trips to Lisbon and Leetonia hosts United. The only other game involving Columbiana County teams shows Cleveland Lincoln at Salem.

Twin Double Pays Record $172,726

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — Robert Froner, his wife of four months, his in-laws and two friends drove out to Roosevelt Raceway in a 1956 Oldsmobile Thursday night.

They could have used a Brink's Truck to get back to their Brooklyn home.

Froner, a 22-year-old architectural draftsman who was trying his hand at the Twin Double for only the second time, rode off with the biggest payoff in TD history — $172,726.80.

The youngster, who has been married only four months, said he had taken his father-in-law's advice betting the last two races after the 4-1 combination had left him with 42 live tickets after the first half of the twin.

"We wheeled six horses in the eighth race and seven in the ninth," he said. "I was standing by the escalator in the last race and when they headed into the stretch and I knew that Roslyn J. was in front, I just prayed."

Froner, his wife Mary, his in-laws, Mr. and Mrs. Gaspari Iaci and Mr. and Mrs. Dominick Cardile, all of Brooklyn, had bet on War Haven $19.70, in the six race and The Operator, $8.40, in the seventh. Their mammoth victory was completed when Don Roberto, $75.80, won the eighth and Roslyn J., $17, took the ninth. The winning numbers were 4-1-8-8.

The winner works days and attends college at night. He said the group had visited Roosevelt many times before but had bet the Twin Double for the first time Monday night and lost.

Orioles Score Run On Triple Play; Yanks, Chisox Win To Chase Leader

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The bases are loaded and your best hitter is up. He bangs into a triple play, but you don't worry. A run scores on the play and that sort of thing happens only to winners.

As long as Hank Bauer's Baltimore Orioles are winners, he can take the triple plays in stride. Especially if they produce runs. That's what happened in the midst of Baltimore's 12-5 victory over Washington Thursday night.

The Orioles had scored eight runs in the fourth inning and looked to be ready for some more in the fifth when Jerry Adair, Luis Aparicio and Boog Powell opened with consecutive singles loading the bases. Brooks Robinson, who had seven straight hits was the batter.

Robinson bounced to Senator shortstop John Kennedy and Adair scored as Kennedy flipped to Don Blasingame, who relayed to Joe Cunningham to complete the seemingly routine double play. But when Aparicio tried to score too, Cunningham's throw to catcher Mike Brumley caught Aparicio and produced the American League's first triple play of the season. Four triple plays had been previously recorded in the National League.

The victory kept the Orioles one game in front of Chicago, which went 10 innings before nipping Minnesota 3-2, and 1 1/2 up on third place New York, which used home run power to drop Detroit 5-2. In the only other American League game played, Cleveland edged Boston 5-4.

Robinson had a big night except for the triple play. He rapped three singles and a double in the 17-hit Oriole attack, scoring two runs and knocking in two.

Sam Bowens contributed a three-run homer in the Orioles' big inning and also had a run-scoring double. Milt Pappas parlayed the heavy support into his 15th victory and seventh in a row.

Ron Hansen rifled his 17th homer of the season off loser Jim Kaat in the 10th inning for Chicago's victory over Minnesota. Hansen's shot came on a 3-0 pitch.

Sox starter Joel Horlen and Kaat had duelled through eight innings before Horlen left for a hitter. Hoyt Wilhelm finished up and won it for Chicago.

Elston Howard crashed a three-run homer and that was all Al Downing needed for his 12th victory as the Yankees kept pace. Joe Pepitone also homered for New York.

Downing limited the Tigers to five hits, one of them Al Kaline's 14th homer.

Pitcher Sonny Siebert and rookie Chico Salmon ripped home runs for the Indians and Don McMahon's tight relief protected the victory over the Red Sox. Dick Stuart belted his 31st homer and Tony Conigliaro got his 21st, both with a man on for Boston.

Salem Nine Wins Crown At Chester

Kelly Hill Atlantic of Salem is the new champion in the Chester Softball tournament after going extra innings to nip Chester VFW, 3-2, Thursday night at City Park.

The winners collected five hits off the losing pitcher Payters while Biddle picked up the mound victory.

Dawson doubled while Campbell and Vic Reed tripled for the Chester nine.

East Carolina College bowed to Richmond in football, 10-7, last fall, then beat Wake Forest, 20-10, and The Citadel, 20-6 in the only games it played against Southern Conference teams.

4 Bouts Listed Tonight At Jaycee Pro Mat Show

Four bouts are listed on a pro wrestling show which will unfold tonight at Memorial Auditorium sponsored by the East Liverpool Jaycees.

Chief White Owl will battle Fred Blassie in the main event. Also on the card will be a match between Johnny DeFaziev and Johnnie Powers while Ace Freeman meets Duke Hoffman in another tussle.

The program will include four midgets in a tag team match. The first bout will get underway at 8:30. Ticket prices include ringside at $2.50, reserved at $2 and general admission $1.50.

Phillies Protect NL Lead By Dumping Cardinals, 5-1

Short Helps Own Victory On Key Hits

By The Associated Press
"I feel I'm a better pitcher than the batter is a hitter," says Chris Short.

The Philadelphia ace proved his point again Thursday by this time went one step further. He showed he was a better hitter than all of the St. Louis batters combined by driving home the first two runs in the National League-leading Phillies' 5-1 victory over the Cardinals.

Short, in fact, belted two hits — a key triple and a single — in four times at bat.

The 26-year-old hurler came to the plate in the second inning with runners at first and third and one out. He promptly lashed a triple to the right field bullpen, bringing in Tony Taylor and Ruben Amaro with the first two runs of a five-run outburst. Short's pitching, meanwhile, didn't suffer. He held the Cardinals to six hits while striking out 12 and walking one.

The victory was his 16th — he has seven losses — tying him with Jim Bunning as the team's winningest pitcher. The southpaw's earned run average — 1.89 — is second only to Sandy Koufax' 1.74 among NL pitchers.

Short's over-all performance was particularly vital because the victory boosted the Phillies' lead to six games over St. Louis, Cincinnati and San Francisco.

A defeat would have moved the Cardinals to within four games of the top with the Phillies facing an important three-game series starting in San Francisco tonight. No one has been as close as four games behind Philadelphia since Aug. 15.

The Reds blanked Pittsburgh 3-0 Friday night while the Giants knocked off Los Angeles 5-1. Milwaukee nipped New York 7-6 and Chicago edged Houston 4-3 in National League afternoon games.

Johnny Callison's two-run homer climaxed the Phillies' early, but winning, rally, which was aided by errors by Ken Boyer and Dick Groat. The Cardinals scored their lone run in the second on a walk to Boyer, a single by Charley James and Bill White's double.

Bob Purkey, 10-8, pitched a five-hitter against the Pirates. The Reds scored all of their runs in the sixth inning. Bob Friend hit Pete Rose with a pitch, then gave up singles to Vada Pinson, Frank Robinson and Deron Johnson for two runs. The last run came across on a force play.

Billy Pierce, making his first start of the season, allowed six hits before needing relief help from Jim Duffalo in the eighth inning. Pierce, 3-0, singled across the last Giant run in the seventh. Jim Hart cracked his 27 homer, a two-run blast, in San Francisco's first inning.

Larry Jackson became the majors' second 19-game winner, scattering eight hits before needing relief help from Lindy McDaniel in the ninth inning.

The Colts rocked Jackson, who has lost 10 times, for three runs in the sixth, but the Cubs rallied for three runs in their half of the inning. Ernie Banks doubled across two runs and later scored on a wild pitch by reliever Hal Waddessick.

The Braves snapped a 4-4 tie against the Mets in the eighth inning on Lee Maye's fourth straight hit, a single, and Rico Carty's 17th homer. Felipe Alou doubled home what turned out to be the winning run in the ninth.

Golf's Big 4 Tees Off In Series

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer
AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Almost everything has arrived for the World Series of Golf except the money — and it is on the way air mail special delivery.

The winners of golf's four major titles — Arnold Palmer, Ken Venturi, Tony Lema and Bobby Nichols — will square off in the 36-hole television special Saturday and Sunday at the Firestone Country Club course.

They began drifting into town Thursday and were scheduled to play their first practice round today. The last six holes of the practice round will be on camera in a dry run for the television show Saturday and Sunday.

Walter Schwimmer, a Chicago television producer who devised this World Series two years ago, also arrived, but he forgot to bring the money.

First prize is $50,000 and second $15,000. Others console themselves with $5,000 each.

"We give honest to gosh checks on this show," Schwimmer said. "No fakes. You can take them out and cash them."

Only trouble is I forgot to bring the checks."

Schwimmer hastily dispatched a request for four checks from his Chicago office and anticipated they would arrive by air mail special delivery long before the final putt is holed for the cameras on Sunday.

Lema, the British Open champion, was the first player to arrive in Akron, but he passed, up a chance to play the extremely difficult Firestone course Thursday.

Lema has been playing poorest golf, comparatively of any of the four champions recently. Palmer, who captured the Masters back in April, also tied for second in the PGA and has been a consistent factor on the tour of late.

Nichols, the PGA titlist, is at the top of his fame. He has a tendency to run in streaks and may be on one.

Venturi, the comeback story of the past several years in golf since he won the U.S. Open in the blazing heat of Washington in June, has played beautiful golf all summer.

Harness Racing Driver Injured Fatally In Race

VAN WERT, Ohio (AP) — A 55-year-old harness racing driver from Wyandot County was injured fatally Thursday night during the first race at the Van Wert County Fair.

Barney Bell of Nevada was thrown from the sulky and trampled by two horses in front of the packed grandstand.

Sheriff Wilmer L. Clay said Bell was driving R. E. King, owned by Ralph Karg of Bucyrus, in the second heat of the free-for-all pace. Bell was third from the rail as the nine-horse field came in front of the grandstand, the sheriff said.

As Bell attempted to cut in front, R. E. King apparently stumbled. The sheriff said Bell was thrown from the sulky and run over by the other two horses. The driver died within minutes after arriving at the hospital. R. E. King had to be shot.

Cleveland Pulls To Keep Indians

CLEVELAND (AP) — With other big cities trying to pull the Indians out of Cleveland, the city's newspapers, officials and fans are starting to tug in the opposite direction.

Seattle wants the Indians, Indians General Manager Gabe Paul says he has been approached by 10 to 12 other cities. Paul said the Indians' losses this year are expected to exceed the $1.2 million the club lost in 1963.

"I don't intend to go broke in Cleveland," Paul said.

Paul planned to meet today with Mayor Ralph S. Locher, who said that a "high-level" meeting of Cleveland's top business and industry leaders would be called soon by the Chamber of Commerce.

The Indians' 15-year lease at the stadium ends Dec. 31. The Tribe declined to renew its option in June.

Paul has said repeatedly he has made no commitment to any other city—at least not yet. Earlier this month the Cleveland Plain Dealer started a campaign to get people to come to the Indians' remaining home games. The result was an outpouring of letters to the newspaper, urging the Tribe to stay in town. Many letters contained money for tickets.

The Plain Dealer today printed a coupon on its sports page, asking fans to check off one of five plans for 1965 season tickets, then to mail the coupon.

The Plain Dealer baseball writer Russell Schneider, writing from Seattle, said the Seattle Chamber of Commerce is promoting a vigorous campaign to sell 8,000 season tickets to lure a major league franchise.

In a story today, Schneider said Royal Brougham, sports editor of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, is "practically sure" the Tribe will move to the Pacific Northwest.

"This campaign to lure the Indians is no wild dream," Brougham told Schneider. "It's a well planned campaign to get them."

Indians attendance has dropped steadily from 1,335,472 in 1954 and hit an 18-year low of 562,507 last season. Attendance to date is 564,058.

Green Bay Picked Over Bears, Browns Favored

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Paul Hornung will start playing for keeps Sunday and the Green Bay Packers will make the Chicago Bears pay up for last year's indignities in the most important game of the weekend openers in pro football.

Forget the pre-season exhibition game between the two ancient rivals, won by the Packers 21-7, this is for real. Vince Lombardi and his crew will be all whipped up for a rugged battle with that savage Bear defense.

The Bears started on their way to the title last year by upsetting the Packers in another opening day game, 10-3, but not this time.

The National Football League has one Saturday night opener when the highly regarded St. Louis Cardinals play in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas against the pass-minded Cowboys.

Sunday action in the NFL finds the New York Giants, who beat only Philadelphia in the exhibition season, starting the defense of their Eastern Conference title against the same Eagles at Franklin Field in Philadelphia.

The Washington Redskins will be at home to Cleveland's flashy offense. Baltimore will be at Minnesota to give the Vikings, 5-0 in exhibitions, a stern threat. Detroit opens at San Francisco and Los Angeles at Pittsburgh.

The American Football League, buoyed by forthcoming new television money, starts its fifth season with two Saturday night games and two Sunday games. The defending champion San Diego Chargers will be at home to Houston in one Saturday game and the New York Jets, the surprise of the exhibition season, play their first game at new Shea Stadium home against Denver. In the Sunday games Kansas City will be at Buffalo and Boston at Oakland.

Here's the way it looks from here for the openers: (All games Sunday unless otherwise noted):

NFL
St. Louis 21, Dallas 13 (Saturday night) — Cards' Charley Johnson throws too many bombs for the Cowboy defense. Dallas still trying to get organized on offense.

Green Bay 17, Chicago 7 — Hornung and Co. control the ball against the Bears. George Halas still having problems with attack. Winner of this should go on to Western title.

Cleveland 24, Washington 20 — Browns' new air arm, with Paul Warfield added to receiving corps, balances Jim Brown's ground punch. Sonny Jurgensen, Bobby Mitchell and Charley Taylor will make it close. Chance for an upset.

Baltimore 21, Minnesota 17 — Johnny Unitas is on the beam and has a new runner, Tony Loric, to help control the ball. New York 28, Philadelphia 17 — Y. A. Tittle finally swings into action for a full day. Eagles tougher on defense but still experimenting.

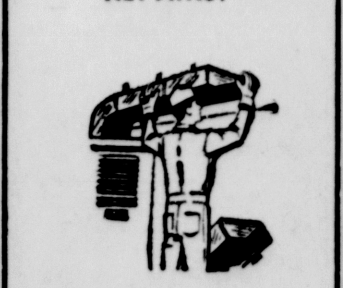

Los Angeles 21, Pittsburgh 17 — A toughie. Rams have been erratic on attack with rookie Bill Munson doing best job. Steelers have shown little punch and defense not up to par.

Detroit 21, San Francisco 7 — Terry Barr and Gail Cogdill to pick on 49ers' deep defense while big rush line gives John Brodie and George Mira a tough day.

707 Ohio Schools Launch 1964 Football Campaigns

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio launches its 1964 scholastic football campaign today, with 36,856 youngsters from 707 schools ready for action.

That's the greatest array of teams ever to go for the gridiron gonfalon in the state, eclipsing last year's record of 684. Consolidation of smaller schools into institutions big enough to support football caused the boost.

Several weeks of practice, along with preview and interscholastic scrimmages, have put the players in tip-top shape for the kickoff. The new rules on face masks and mouth guard are expected to keep head injuries at a minimum.

Most of the teams are playing 10-game schedules—and all have an eye on the state championship won a year ago by Niles McKinley and the year before by Massillon Washington. Both have new coaches this year.

Browns Show 7 Rookies On 1964 Roster

CLEVELAND (AP)—The release of halfback Ken Webb and rookie linebacker Ed Bettridge of Bowling Green leaves the Cleveland Browns with seven rookies on the roster for the opening of the regular season.

Webb, veteran of six National Football League seasons, and Bettridge were waived by all National Football League teams Thursday. Webb was acquired from the Detroit Lions last year in a trade involving tackle Floyd Peters.

Starting last season as Jim Brown's regular running mate, Webb suffered rib injuries that sidelined him in the second game, and he never won back the job from Ernie Green. He had not signed a 1964 contract, seeming prepared to play out his option.

Coach Blanton Collier is hoping Bettridge will consider an offer to remain with the team as a one-man reserve squad.

The squad of 40 includes rookies Sidney Williams, Dave Raimy and Walt Roberts. None of these three was believed to have much of a chance when the team went to camp in mid-July.

Roberts is a fine receiver and a dangerous punt return man. A product of San Jose State, he will be one of the National Football League's smallest performers at 5-foot-9 and 165 pounds.

Raimy, former University of Michigan running back, is being groomed to play safety.

Williams, drafted 16th started camp as one of the bodies which might be kept around for the early contact work. The 245-pounder had the added disadvantage of playing at defensive end, where the team is well supplied with veterans.

The other four rookies—halfback LeRoy Kelly, ends Paul Warfield and Cliff McNeil, and Lowell Taylor, a defensive back obtained from the Chicago Bears for Rich Kreitling—had pretty good credentials going to camp.

year, Tony Mason having left the Dragons of Niles to become an assistant at the University of Michigan, and Leo Strang leaving Massillon to become head coach at Kent State.

However, the Dragons and Tigers are talent-filled outfits ready to make another bid for the laurels. Other powerhouses are certain to pop up all over the state to challenge for the crown.

The championship will be decided again by The Associated Press newspaper and radio-television sports editors voting in the weekly poll. The winner in the final ratings gets the championship and the Rutgers Hall of Fame trophy emblematic of the title. Ohio is the lone state in which the Rutgers trophy is awarded.

Paul Landis, state high school commissioner, urged today that players, fans and coaches display the greatest sportsmanship during the season. He also deplored the post-game disturbances which marred some of last year's contests — such as those which forced Toledo to abandon night games this season.

Landis said gate receipts would be curtailed as a result of the all-day-game schedule, and that the entire sport picture could be injured. He cited that tax money cannot be used to finance high school sports, which must be self-sustaining—and that football is the big money-maker.

By HAL HUMPHREY

Critics Up In Air About New Shows

I may do all my viewing of the new TV season from an airplane cruising at 30,000 feet. Last week American Airlines introduced its flying TV system, Astrovision, by premiering the season's first "Lucy Show" on a flight from Los Angeles to New York.

This Saturday Danny Kaye Hal Humphrey is taking a gaggle of Hollywood press and friends up to show them his first show of the new season on the same Astrovision TV sets.

Just so the pilot has a destination, we will fly to San Francisco during the closed-circuit telecast.

WE PROBABLY are being routed via Oklahoma City to allow enough time to see Danny's hour show. On a jet flight from here to San Francisco, there isn't time to pick up the landing gear.

Really, this is the only way to view TV. Each passenger is given a stethoscope-styled headset (sterilized) which prevents him having to answer questions from garrulous neighbors who keep asking, "Is that actually Ginger Rogers?"

The minute you are plugged in a pert stewardess begins plying you with refreshments (soda pop and petit fours) and making sure your built-in Astrovision set is properly tuned.

ONE PRECAUTION which Astrovision viewers must practice is making sure the jack on their headset is disconnected before jumping up to go to the rest room. Nobody wants bloody ears.

On the "Lucy Show" flight the commercials were deleted, but I've been warned that Danny Kaye's sponsor is not so galling as Lucy's.

We not only will see the commercials, but there's a rumor circulating that all headsets will be padlocked around the passengers' neck to preclude their escaping to an unoccupied lavatory.

As a kind of bonus for being good little viewers, Danny's floating premiere will land temporarily at San Francisco, and the host will lead us to Johnny Kan's Chinese cafe for a repeat cooked by Danny himself.

NOTHING has been said yet about the Astrovision program for the return flight to Hollywood. It won't be long enough for an old movie, and it isn't likely anyone had the foresight to keep us aloft for another two days to run off the rest of the CBS new-season shows.

If the other networks decide to use Astrovision for press previews this season, we might wind up in Jamaica where NBC's "Flipper" is being filmed. It's a shame "Hawaiian Eye" no longer is with us, but a lot of the Eastern press might enjoy a trip to Newport Beach, Calif., where CBS films some of "Baileys of Balboa."

THIS JUNKETING of the press may have some significance beyond proving it is possible to view TV at 30,000 feet without getting nauseous. Following the TV quiz show scandals several years back, the networks and ad agencies cut out all press junkets for fear the press might interpret them as bribery.

The fact they are being revived now could mean all sorts of things. Perhaps TV has discovered that the press (including some TV columnists) no longer is paying attention to it, and the junkets are designed to rekindle interest.

Most TV programs have become so frothy, even anemic, in content that it isn't easy for a critic to remember them long enough to appraise them. Catching them on an airplane may be the remedy.

New County Faculty To Attend Breakfast

LISBON — Approximately 40 new teachers in the four county school systems — Beaver, Fairfield-Waterford, Southern and United Local — will be guests at a breakfast and get-acquainted meeting Saturday at 8:30 a. m. at the Southern Local High School.

Representatives of two group insurance plans, credit union and E. & E. Insurance Co., sponsored by the Ohio Education Association, will discuss their plans with the new teachers. E. & E. Insurance is sponsoring the event.

Supt. James L. McBride will welcome the group and outline the county office's services for the new members of the faculty.

Life Would Be Simpler

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Life would be much simpler for men if women were identifying badges.

I don't mean a badge that says, "I am a woman."

What I mean is a badge that would tell what kind of a woman she was — so a man would know on sight just how to treat her.

In the war between the sexes, women, for all practical purposes, can be divided into three types. Most of man's bewilderment, confusion or absolute dismay in his contacts with a member of the opposing sex is caused by the fact he isn't sure just what type she is.

These are the three types of women:

1. The superwoman who thinks she is better than any man.
2. The shrewd conniver. She demands equal rights with men, but also expects all the special privileges historically accorded ladies.
3. The clinging vine woman. All she wants from a man is everything he has — plus what he can borrow at the bank.

It would make for a more ordered world, I submit, if each of these feminine types would wear identifying badges — at least in public.

For the superwoman, I suggest a lapel pin showing a spiked heel crushing a worm. The worm, of course, symbolizes man.

When a fellow saw that badge he would realize instantly:

"Here is a gal who knows more about any topic in the world than I could ever possibly learn."

"Here is a gal who could pin me in a wrestling match, out-ride me on horseback, or beat me in a gun duel."

"No matter what she says, I will reply, 'Yes, ma'am.'"

For the second type, the shrewd conniver, a proper symbol might be a feminine Janus head, with its two faces looking in opposite directions.

When a fellow saw that badge, he would say to himself:

"She's the dependent independent type."

"She wants to compete with me for my job, which she thinks she can do better."

"But if we go out together for a business lunch, she will be too weak to pick up the check. She will also expect me to pay for the cab there and back."

"If it rains, she will expect me to hold my umbrella over her head while my head gets wet."

For the third feminine type, the clinging vine, an excellent symbol might be a startled fawn standing in a cradle.

When a fellow saw that badge, he would think:

"She is as helpless as a bundle of wet wash."

"She expects me to put her on a pedestal."

"It would be fun to cuddle this little baby, but if I marry her I'll have to spoon-feed her, do the dishes, and spend the rest of my life wiping her tears away."

Yes, it would be a far, far, better world for men if women were identifying badges. But they never will. That's the trouble with the unfair sex. They never give fair warning.

The word "blurb" is a coined one, and is generally applied to all the complimentary comments that a publisher assembles on the jacket of a book.

W.Va. In Black By $7.8 Million For Fiscal Year

CHARLESTON — West Virginia was $7.8 million in the black at the end of the past fiscal year, according to State Auditor Denzil Gainer.

The state had a $7.8 million surplus for the year ending June 30 after spending some $732.5 million to operate the state government.

The year's surplus was added to money left over from past years to create a total surplus of $60,551,820, Gainer said.

Nearly a third of the fiscal year's budget — $113.7 million — went for education. Almost another third went for roads, and another 24 per cent went for health and welfare.

The biggest source of revenue was personal, property, corporate and other taxes. The state also collected $93.3 million from federal sources, Gainer reported.

Change Eyed In Voting By Fair Board

LISBON — The Columbiana County Agricultural Society Wednesday night voted to submit in the Society election Oct. 7 a change in voting hours from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m. instead of 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. as now.

If approved, the new hours will become effective at the annual meeting in 1965.

Ballots will be cast for four Fair Board members Oct. 7. The four incumbents whose terms expire have indicated they will file for new terms. They are P. R. Corey, Columbiana; Walter Johnson, Negley; Edwin Thompson, Lisbon, and William Werner, Salem.

Any county resident who is a member of the Society may run for one of the offices. Their petitions, signed by 10 other members, are to be filed by Sept. 30, seven days before election, with Mrs. Velma Cope, secretary.

Petitions may be secured from Mrs. Cope.

Ben Weingart of Leetonia, president, appointed five board members to study the fair-ground needs for the 1965 fair. They are Fred Schoeni of Belmont, Isaac Skeels and Richard Stockman of Lisbon, Galen Greenstein of Salem, and Atty. Donald Elliott, Rogers.

The board discussed the report of fair inspector, John Hoobler, who said the 1964 fair was "a good agricultural exhibition."

A report was made that a total of $4,100 premium checks were mailed this week to winners for prizes won at the fair Aug. 21-25.

Next meeting will be Oct. 14 at the fairgrounds.

Offers Training Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., says his state has proposed a regional work training program at Camp Atterbury, 30 miles southeast of Indianapolis, under the new anti-poverty bill. Bayh said the camp would handle about 5,000 young people from seven midwestern states, including Ohio.

Assigned To Germany

LISBON — Pvt. Roger W. Walker, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Walker of R.D. 2, has been assigned to the 4th Armored Division in Germany. A driver in headquarters company of the 51st Infantry near Ulm, he entered the service in January.

PARACHUTES

QUESTION: How do parachutes prevent people from falling too fast?

ANSWER: When something falls through the air, two forces are at work on it: gravity, which is pulling it down toward the earth, and the resistance of the air. When a parachute jumper comes sailing down, gravity is pulling him, but the large area of his parachute is giving strong resistance to the air, and this is why he floats down slowly and safely. Back in 1495, the Italian painter-scientist Leonardo da Vinci drew a sketch showing a man jumping from a tower attached to a kind of parachute. The first successful jump, however, was not made until 1783. During the 1930's, parachutes became highly developed for landing specially-trained troops behind enemy lines. Modern parachutes, made of nylon, are from 20 to 28 feet across. The "harness", composed of straps around the jumper's shoulders and legs, contains the lines and folded parachute, which springs out of the pack and opens when the jumper pulls the "rip cord," attached to a ring convenient to his reach. The rate of descent of a parachute is about 15 feet per second. The jump should be made from 500 or more feet above the ground. Otherwise, there is not distance and time for the "canopy" or umbrella-like part of the chute to open safely.

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Friday, Sept. 11, the 255th day of 1964. There are 111 days left in the year.
Today's highlight in history:
On this date in 1814, a fleet built in the New York state forests by young Lt. Thomas Macdonough, defeated a British fleet in the Battle of Lake Champlain. The victory saved the United States from an invasion by 11,000 of the Duke of Wellington's veterans of the Napoleonic Wars.
On this date:
In 1609, Henry Hudson discovered the island of Manhattan.
In 1941, construction of the world's largest office building, the Pentagon in Washington, was started.
In 1943, the greater part of the Italian fleet surrendered at the Mediterranean island of Malta.
Ten years ago — Hurricane Edna passed over Cape Cod, Mass., Maine and New Brunswick, Canada, killing 23 persons.

Five years ago — The heir-presumptive to the throne of the Netherlands, Princess Beatrix, arrived in New York to take part in the 350th anniversary celebration of Henry Hudson's exploration of the Hudson River Valley.
One year ago — The United States advised President Ngo Dinh Diem to remove his brother, Gao Dinh Nhu, from the South Viet Nam government.

Hearings Scheduled
On Proposed Canal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army engineers will hold a hearing in Pittsburgh Oct. 19 and 20 on a proposal to build a canal from the Ohio River near Pittsburgh to Lake Erie, Rep. Oliver P. Bolton, R-Ohio, announced today.
Another hearing on the issue will be held Oct. 22 and 23 in Jefferson, Ohio, Bolton said.

City Man Gets West Beaver Faculty Post

George Woods of East Liverpool has been appointed French and English teacher at Western Beaver High School at Industry, among three faculty posts filled by the Board of Education.

Others named at the board's meeting Tuesday were Mrs. Janet Vogel of Enon Valley as girls' physical education and health teacher and Mrs. Catherine Kuzma of Ohio View as a grade teacher. The latter had resigned in July but was rehired.

Fred Latherow of Freedom, a social studies teacher, was appointed to coach the cross-country team, replacing John Hineman, who resigned to devote full-time to his post as guidance director.

Dr. James O. Sloss of Beaver was elected school physician and Dr. William Hurt, also of Beaver, school dentist.

Frank A. Meredith, principal, was authorized to purchase a 1965 Dodge for drivers' training classes.

Contracts for $1,554.75 and $847.48 were awarded the LaSalle Products of Pittsburgh and Sporting Goods Co. of New Castle, respectively.

The bid of $1,117 of the Russell Bros. of Youngstown for equipment to transport hot lunches from the high school cafeteria to the Logan School was accepted.

The Smith Dairy was authorized to furnish milk and dairy products to the Fairview and Snyder Schools, and Hyllmede Dairy, Inc., for the high school and the Logan and Industry Elementary Schools.

The Industry Parent-Teacher Association was granted permission to use the Logan School for a fashion show and card party Nov. 5.

Hineman was granted permission to attend the national conference of the Association of College Admissions Counselors at Detroit Oct. 8-10, and Michael Arbutina, high school principal, was given permission to attend the state conference at the National Association of Secondary School Principals in Harrisburg Oct. 25-27.

Ex-Administrator Dies

CHICAGO (AP) — Peter W. Cahill, former public aid administrator in Illinois and Nevada, died Wednesday at the age of 55.

Former Newsman Given Renner's Seat In Senate

CINCINNATI (AP) — Ex-newsman Mike Maloney, 35, has been named by Hamilton County Republicans to fill the unexpired term of State Sen. Gordon Renner, who died Sept. 2.

Maloney quit the Cincinnati Enquirer last year after 15 years to become administrative assistant to county GOP chairman Gordon H. Scherer.

Maloney, whose appointment has to be confirmed by the other Republican senators, started as a copyboy for the Enquirer and served as a political writer and chief of the newspaper's Columbus bureau.

Renner served eight terms in the Ohio House and was speaker in 1950-52. He then was elected to the Senate. His term would have expired Dec. 31.

Maloney and incumbent GOP Sen. Fred Hoffman will face Democratic candidates Martin Hogan and Francis O'Connor in the November election.

County Approves Plat In St. Clair

Two plats were approved Thursday by Columbiana County commissioners.

One is Stage Coach Settlement, owned by Frank M. and Olive K. Fisher, in Section 26 of St. Clair Township. It consists of 4.28 acres.

The other, Plat 1, owned by Barry and Hilda B. Dickson, consists of one lot of 1.82 acres in Section 1 of Unity Township, on the Petersburg-Unity Rd.

In other business, travel allowance was approved for members of the Soldiers Relief Commission to attend the annual fall executive committee meeting of the Ohio State Association of Soldiers Relief Commissioners Sept. 18-20 at Columbus.

Admission of a patient at the Ohio Tuberculosis Hospital at Columbus was approved.

The commissioners will meet Monday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. at the Courthouse at Lisbon.

Wayne Group To Meet

LISBON — A project on "Shellcraft" will be presented for the Wayne Township Home Demonstration Group Wednesday from 10:30 a. m. to 2:30 p. m. at Willow Grove Park, according to Miss Ann Overturf, associate county extension agent in home economics. Mrs. Letha Huston is leader of the group.

Coal Ordered By Fairfield School Board

MIDDLETON — A contract to furnish coal was awarded to the Kannal & Son Coal Co. of Guilford at a meeting of the Fairfield-Waterford School District Board of Education Thursday.

Kannal bid $6 a ton for stoker and egg and $5.50 for run-of-mine as the lowest offer submitted. Other firms bidding were Rupert Brothers of New Waterford and Thompson Coal Co. of New Springfield.

The board hired Mrs. Marilyn Porter to teach kindergarten a half-day at Fairfield.

Mrs. Beulah Converse, board member, was named delegate to the Ohio School Boards Association meeting at Columbus in November, and Mrs. Eleanor Bretz was named alternate.

The board discussed the proposed $350,000 bond issue for school improvement and a 4-mill levy on the ballot in the November election. The levy is a 3.6-mill renewal and a new four-tenths mill combination.

Eleven new teachers of the district were honored by the board at a dinner prior to the meeting. The board will meet again Oct. 8.

Events scheduled for the next few weeks were announced by Joseph Driscoll, executive head.

They include a meeting of the PTO at Crestview High School Sept. 21, a fall festival at New Waterford Sept. 17-19, sponsored by the Athletic Boosters and Music Boosters; the Fairfield-Waterford Education Association dinner meeting at Crestview and a meeting of the Music Boosters at Crestview, both Sept. 28, and school pictures to be taken Oct. 7.

Driscoll reported a new scoreboard has been delivered and is to be in use for the first home football game Saturday with Mineral Ridge. It was obtained by the Athletic Boosters.

Bond Issue Ok'd By Heights PTA

Harry Greenwood of the Citizens Committee for Better Schools spoke on behalf of the school bond issue at a special meeting of the Pleasant Heights Parent-Teacher Association Thursday night at the school.

Following a roundtable discussion, the unit went on record as endorsing the issue.

Jack Wheeler, president, presided.

The first fall meeting of the association will be Sept. 28.

Democratic Women To Aid Voter Signup

The East Liverpool Democratic Women's Club Thursday night completed plans to assist in the voter registration drive Sept. 22-23, working from the party headquarters in the Rapoport Building.

Mrs. Iris Applegate, president, presided at the meeting at the Potters Savings & Loan Co. annex and two guest speakers were heard. Joseph Coons of WOHI discussed the school bond issue and Mrs. Helena Price, advisor of the Youth Council for the NAACP, spoke on her work.

Meeting of the Ohio Federation of Democratic Women at Columbus Sept. 18-19 was announced. Next meeting is Oct. 8.

6-Way Approach Given For Ohio Reapportionment

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A committee of legislators studying legislative reapportionment has come up with a six-way approach to the problem.

House Speaker Roger Cloud, R - Logan, chairman, pushed through the agreement Thursday after Sen. Frank King, D - Lucas, Ohio AFL - CIO president, said the legislature should act without delay or further court action.

Under the agreement, county lines would be unchanged in forming districts with populations sufficient for representation on an equal basis with populous counties. Subdistricting would be employed when needed.

Other points are: Current population figures to be used instead of federal census figures, total population instead of voters to be the basis of representation with the so-called fractional method to be retained, and new reapportionment provisions would be proposed for inclusion in the state constitution rather than leaving the matter up to the legislature.

Tourists spent $2.5 billion in Florida last year.

LaCroft Boy Hurt In Fall

A LaCroft youth hurt in a fall from a tree and a Gardendale man injured in a fall on the street were among six area residents treated at City Hospital Thursday.

John Thorne, 15, son of Leo Thorne of 7th Ave., LaCroft, was treated last night for a possible fracture of the arm received in the fall from the tree.

John Jones, 54, of Canton St., Gardendale, suffered abrasions of the arm in the fall on the street.

Joyce Ann Hawk, 14, daughter of Mrs. Minnie Hawk, 1205

Main St., Wellsville, received a puncture wound of the left foot when she stepped upon a nail.

In a fall from a barrel while at work for a trucking firm, Kenneth Buzzard, 52, 189 E. 3rd St., suffered bruises of the fingers.

Carol Summers, 3, daughter of Mrs. Anna Summers of Newell, fell out of bed, receiving a fractured collarbone.

Danny Allen Byers, 4, son of Mrs. Donna Byers of Empire, suffered a cut on the scalp when he jumped from a couch and struck a television set.

Rodents comprise the largest "family" of mammals in the animal kingdom.
